NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Fall Dress Fabrics—Sleeves—Skirts—Capes—Jackets—Millinery.

The fortunate possessor of a handsome black or colored Spring crepon, finds herself well equipped for early Fall, as this material while not the latest novelty, is in great favor, and will certainly remain stylish during the coming season. The most expensive black crepons are brightened by patches of Persian coloring, a few inches apart, a suggestion of palm leaves, and not only in dress goods, but in millinery or ribbons. Oriental color combinations take high rank. Boucle fabrics, that is to say, colored surfaces covered with tiny, black curls, are again fashionable; richly colored plaids showing to great advantage as a back ground, their bright hues gleaming prettily, through the soft, black overweave.

MOHAIR, WOOL AND SILK,

are charmingly wrought together in the newest Fall fabrics, the silk and wool forming a basis, over which ripples, lace-like undulations of mohair. Shaggy camel's hair stuffs, a reminder of blankets or rugs, are extremely stylish, and loosely woven Cheviots, or any material with a rough surface is sure to be popular. The pretty idea of simulating Nature's soft fragrance by the use of choice perfumery delicately sprayed on artificial flowers, does not die with summer blossoms, and the more gorgeous tints of Autumn leaves and garnishings, exhale likewise their sweet aroma. Among the favorite scents used for this purpose, none is more popular than Murray & Lanman's Florida water. Its delightful and refreshing sweetness is recognized at every turn, and lends an air more feminine to the extremely bold weavings noticeable in Fall fabrics. Irridescent materials are a leading novelty, especially adabted to pale, slender persons, imparting the color and contrast, always essential to true style.

SLEEVES,

will constitute the battle ground of the coming season, and although no diminution of size is yet apparent, it is probable that when the winter fashions are more decided, sleeves will be much less aggressive. There will be no economy in skirts, as they are quite wide, and the circular skirt very generally adopted; the best authorities asserting also, that stiff linings will no longer be tolerated. Gored skirts have been found to dip between the gores; hence the adoption of the circular skirt, and it goes without saying that the "S. H. & M." brands of bias velveteen skirt binding, will be more generally used than ever, by reason of their great superiority.

"RUG" CAPES,

promise to be extremely serviceable, made of heavy, double-faced wool plaid, with hoods trimmed by colored fringe. Their distinctive feature is a broad, plaided piece put on plain at each side of the front, trimmed with large buttons and edged by fringe. "Mandolin" or "melon" sleeves, consisting of three or five gores, the centre one extending over the shoulder to the collar, lend an air of peculiarity to Fall jackets, and here again, broad, front facings are trimmed by mammoth buttons. The "ripple" back is too graceful to pass out of style and jacket seams are both strapped and piped.

FALL MILLINERY,

shows even broader trimmings than those of Spring, and brims necessarily are very wide at the front, in order to support these full garnitures. Felts represent all sizes and colors, usually with medium high crowns and straight round rims. Very small irridescent, gilt, steel or jet hats are designed for evening but all indications point to very large hats (particularly those of plain velvet) for fashionable wear this winter, loaded with ostrich or coq plumes, wide Oriental ribbons, buckles a foot long bent around the hat, or five mammoth ribbon rosettes (on a single hat) with flower petals at the centres. Cashmere, miroir, changeable or plain velvets are indispensable, combining with all these various materials, making lovely "Tam O'Shanter" crowns on plain felts for young girls, or used in no less charming, but more sedate styles for older persons.

VERONA CLARKE.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

The success of the Speer N. J. Wine Co. in producing an extra quality of Grape Brandy is marvelous. They rely alone on the grape for body and flavor, and hence there is a wide and growing demand for this Brandy which rivals the old brands of Cognac, France.

Nothing is finer or richer than Speer's Old Climax Brandy and his Old Port, five to fifteen years old. For table use their Clarets, Sauternes, Burgundies and P. J. Sherry are unsurpassed. For the sick room, hospital and Sacramental purposes their Unfermented Grape Juice is recommended and used by both physicians and divines. Sold by druggists.

HARMONY REIGNS.

Nothing Else Is in Sight for New York Republicans.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 16.—On the eve of the republican convention there is nothing but harmony in sight. All the talk of "new blood on the ticket" ceased when the statesmen stepped from the cars. The temporary and permanent chairman of the convention have been selected, the platform has been built and the slate is made. The convention will go down in history as one of the most harmonious on record. It is a great victory for Thomas C. Platt. The opposition to have aided him, for the anti-Platt people who talked of putting J. S. Fassett's name before the house for temporary chairman have been rebuked by Fasset himself. The state committee has headquarters at Congress hall, but this is almost deserted. Mr. Platt is at the United States hotel and that big hotel is jammed to the roof. To-night the lobby is a dense mass of humanity. Chauncey M. Depew arrived at 5 p m. He is not a regular attendant at state convention and his presence aroused some comment. His presence enlightened matters considerable. Benjamin F. Tracy, ex-secretary of the navy, arrived this evening.

The old ticket, which will be renominated unless something unforseen occurs, is: Secretary of state J. Palmer, of Albany; comptroller, J. A. Roberts, of Buffalo, state treasurer, A. B. Colvin, of Glens Falls. attorney general, T. C. Hancock, of Syracuse; state engineer, C. W. Adams, of Utica, Judge C. E. Martin, of Binghampton, is slated for judge of the court of appeals. Senator Clarence Lexow, of the Lexow committee fame, is to be permanent chairman, and Congressman J. S. Sherman, of Utica, has been selected for temporary chairman.

NEW YORK and Chicago have furnished subjects, scenes, and characters for two of the novels published within less than a year of each other. The more recently issued of the two, With the Procession, by Henry B. Fuller, deals with Chicago life; and Mr. Fuller "has produced an effect," says W. D. Howells, "which a talent either less firm or less fine must have failed of. . . . It seems to me that I have never read a book more intensely localized—that is to say, realized. . . . Chicago had no sooner settled into a pose than an artist of her own was there to catch the very form and color of her life." In The Golden House, the other novel just referred to, the life of New York City has been made the subject of serious study and realistic handling by Charles Dudley Warner. HARPER & BROTHERS, Publishers, New York, September 3, 1895.

Killed By a Bicycler.

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 16.—A bicycler ran down aged Jacob Pagel, a clothier merchant, on Saturday night, and the victim died to-day. Mr. Pagel and his daughter-in-law were about to board a car when Z. H. Dixon, a telegraph operator from Conshohocken, came dashing by on his wheel. He struck the aged man knocking him down. His physician gave it as his opinion that a blood vessel at the base of the brain was ruptured.

Mr. Pagel was 72 years of age. He was born in Berlin and came to this country in 1842, located in Philadelphia, where he was engaged in business forty years. Since 1881 he has lived in Norristown.

There'll Be No Race.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 16.—A. Cass Canfield, secretary of the America cup committee, when asked to-day if there was any prospect of more racing between the Defender and Valkyrie, said: "Not that I know of." He allowed that the only foundation for the report that there would be further racing, and off this port, was the idle talk at the clubs. He doubted if Lord Dunraven or any one else with authority would talk race just at present.

Saved From Forest Fires.

Pleasantville, N. J., Sept. 15.—The villages of Bakerville and Bargaintown, which were threatened by extensive forest fires last night, have been saved by gangs of men working all night and to-day setting back fires. Some valuable cranberry bogs were burned. Another fire started at 4 o'clock this afternoon four miles above here, and is now sweeping towards McKee City, which seems to be in imminent danger.

Aunt Rachael's Bitters.

The undeniable fact that these Bitters are composed in the main of Speer's Wine, with Peruvian Bark, Snake Root, etc. analyzed and recommended to invalids and the Medical Profession, by the best Chemists in the United States, cannot fail in inspiring confidence in the use of these Malarial Bitters.

MORA'S CLAIM PAID.

A Draft for $1,449,000 Turned Over by the Spanish Government.

Washington, Sept 15.—Senator deLome the Spanish minister at noon yesterday delivered to Mr. Adee, acting secretary of state, a draft for the equivalent of $1,449,000, drawn on the Spanish financial agent in London, in settlement of the Mora claim. Having settled the international feature of the case, the state department is now likely to encounter some difficulty at home in disbursing the money.

This morning a bailiff from one of the district courts waited on Secretary Adee and attempted to serve an injunction on behalf of Mrs. A. W. Frazer, restraining him from paying $1,600 of the claim, which she alleges to be her interest in an assignment held by Dr. Dexter.

Mr. Adee refused to accept service because the injunction was directed against Richard Olney, and the papers were returned to court for an amendment to issue against the secretary of state.

Mr. Willoughby, a Washington lawyer, was also at the department in the interest of an assignment he holds from Attorney Page, formerly Mora's lawyer, and there is reason to believe that these are but forerunners of numerous claims under assignments, some of which doubtless will be contested by Mr. Mora.

A Constable Free with His Gun.

Wilkesbarre September 15. — Bruce Wolfe, a constable at Edwarnsville, a coal town three miles from here, and Mike Judge, a similar official, this morning ordered a number of miners who are said to have been drinking, under arrest. The miners refused to accompany the officers and Wolfe undertook to convince them of his authority by using his club. The miners set upon the constables and drove them into the streets, whereupon Wolfe drew his revolver and fired six shots into the crowd. Two men fell and the others ran away. Wolfe dashed down the street and meeting Chief of Police Thomas, tried to borrow his revolver, but the chief refused. Wolfe then hurried on. Neighbors ran to the scene of the shooting and found John Bywar and Mike Dansy unconscious on the ground. Bywar had one bullet in his leg and another over his heart. Dansy was shot through the throat. Neither man is expected to live. Wolfe fled, but Judge was arrested to-night. He said he ran away when Wolfe began shooting.

Mr. Iselin Will not Race.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—A. J. Drexel of this city, to-day received a letter from C. Oliver Iselin, of New York, in response to an offer made a few days ago by Mr. Drexel and J. R. Fell of a purse of $10,000 on a cup of that value for a race between the Defender and Valkyrie on any course between Sandy Hook and Marblehead under the rules of the New York Yacht club. Mr. Iselin declines to accept the proposition. Mr. Drexel declined to give out for publication the entire text of Mr. Iselin's letter, but stated that the following passage sufficiently indicates its tenor.

"Although appreciating your generous offer our syndicate feels obliged, under existing circumstances, to decline any race with Valkyrie except American cup races. These we have offered to resail at any place, any time and under any conditions agreeable to Lord Dunraven."

Mr. Iselin Makes a Proposition.

New York, Sept. 15.—At the meeting of the officers of the New York Yacht club held last Friday afternoon and evening, Mr. Iselin submitted these propositions for their consideration:

"First, to call off the races of September 10 and 12 and offer Lord Dunraven to sail two other races in their stead.

"Second, to re-open the whole question of the races and to call off all that had been sailed. This done, to offer Lord Dunraven to sail him three other races for the cup. In other words, to begin anew and wipe out the old record."

After a lengthy discussion, during which the subject was treated from every conceivable point, the propositions were submitted to a vote which resulted negatively

EVERY man who dares to say a word in writing or speech in favor of restoring the money of the Constitution—Silver, is "a crank." Every man who advocates monometalism and a gold standard, to increase the wealth of the wealthy and the poverty of the poor, is an able financier or a distinguished statesman," as it happened, whether he is in some capacity a money lender and note broker, or holds some petty officials position. For the truth of this see any gold bug paper.

"I say, Blossom how do you pronounce c-a-s-t-o-r-i-a?" "Why castoria of course; how else could it be?" "Well, the doctors pronounce it harmless."

SHE SHOT TO KILL.

And if She Tells the Truth She Had Reason.

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 17.—E. Channing Potts, the retired owner of extensive marble quarries in Plymouth township, was shot at five times last night with murderous intent by Miss Mamie Freas, his former housekeeper, and who accuses him of betrayal. Three of the shots took effect respectively in the right arm, the left side of the neck and left temple. The latter bullet struck the skull and taking an upward course it lodged under the skin on top of the victim's head. The attending physician stated to-night that Potts would recover.

Potts, in narrating the affair to-day, stated that while on a dark road last night in the suburbs of Norristown, he was accosted by Miss Freas, who is 22 years of age, who asked him if he intended resuming housekeeping with her at "Cedar Grove" mansion, where she alleges that she was betrayed. Potts answered in the negative, and the woman pulled a revolver and emptied its chambers upon him. Potts denies that he is responsible for the girl's misfortune. The girl has disappeared, but the victim states that it is not his intention to prosecute her.

Want McCarthy.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17. A special to the Evening Telegraph from Harrisburg says:

It is said here that the friends of Judge McCarthy, of Philadelphia, are arranging a scheme by which he will be kept on the superior court bench. The alleged intention is to have him placed on the state ticket by nomination papers and then endeavor to throw him a large vote by having his friends vote for but one candidate for judge (each voter being entitled to vote for six candidates). It is argued that the friends of the other Democratic candidates will endeavor to work this scheme of voting for but one candidate in their respective districts and that Judge McCarthy will have as good a chance as any one of them. Besides, he would get a good many Republican votes in Philadelphia, which has no candidate for that office, the city having been turned down in the Williamsport convention. The Pennsylvania Democracy faction is said to be at the bottom of the movement and it is probable that their intentions and explicit program will be announced shortly.

A Failure at Wrightsville.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 16.—George H. Lehman, of Wrightsville, a cattle dealer, known to the trade all over the state, failed to-day on an execution for $10,000, which he confessed to Dr. George A. Rebman, of Wrightsville. It is believed the liabilities will reach upwards of $40,000, with very small assets. Lehman recently gave drafts for $10,000 on parties in Pittsburg, from whom he purchased cattle, but the Wrightsville bank, refusing to honor the drafts, the parties to whom they were given came here and are now looking into the case. D. B. King, of Columbia, one of Lehman's endorsers, to-day brought suit in Columbia against him for false pretense, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Where he is now is not known. He left for New York last Friday, and on Saturday his mother received a letter saying he would return, but up to this afternoon he was still absent.

Cheap Travel.

A writer in the Pittsburg Dispatch says that no one outside of a city railroad ticket office can have any idea of the number of 'mental travelers" that there are, of the mental trips that one's friends and neighbors are constantly taking in one direction or another by means of time tables and free guides. The collecting of railroad literature becomes a mania with some, and they study the pamphlets, excursion books and so on with a detail that gives them as complete and perfect a knowledge of the places they visit only in their minds as though they had actually been there. "They can discourse fluently upon the hotels and principal sights of the city, even tell you of the trains and the connections they make, or describe the small stations through which they passed in going there."

are made prematurely aged by diseases "alas, how prevalent!" which makes them pale, listless, low spirited, morose or irritable in temper, easily tired, forgetful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the lists of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even to the third and fourth generation. A complete and scientific treatise on these ailments, their symptoms, nature and proper management, prepared by those who have had a vast and successful experience in their treatment and cure, will be mailed secure from observation, in a plain sealed envelope, to any one sending, enclosing with this notice ten cents, (for postage,) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

NATIONAL PARK DEDICATED.

A Great Event This Week on the Battle Field of Chickamauga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Nearly a third of century ago the battlefield of Gettysburg was dedicated as a national cemetery. On that occasion President Lincoln delivered an address which was recognized as the philosophy, in brief, of the great struggle then impending between the north and south. In this address, in words long since historic, he formulated the doctrine that "This nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom and that the government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

On Thursday and Friday of this week, the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military park will bededicated with ceremonies no less imposing than those at Gettysburg, made memorable by Mr. Lincoln's presence. The time chosen has especial appropriateness in that it will be the thirty-second anniversary of the fiercely contested battle of Chickamauga, in many respects one of the most decisive of the war and one in which American pluck and endurance were shown to great advantage.

The vice president of the United States will preside. The secretary of war and generals of the army will by their presence, and official dignity to the occasion. Others present will include all, or nearly all, of the surviving Federal and Confederate leaders who participated in the battle. Among these are ex-Senator Manderson, of Nebraska; General H. V. Boynton, of Washinton; Gen. Dodge, of Iowa; General Horace Porter and Daniel Butterfield, of New York; General Palmer, of Illinois; General Gordon, of Georgia; Gen. Wheeler, of Alabama; Senator Bate, of Tennessee; ex-Senator Walthall, of Mississippi; Governor Roach, of Alabama, and Gen. O. Howard (retired) of the regular army.

The Chickamauga and Chattanooga park embrace the entire battle field of Chickamauga and the approaches. The area, within the legal limits of the park is about fifteen square miles.

Worthy of Imitation.

Major J. S. Duffie, of Herndon, Va., recently circulated a paper in that village for the formation of a school for the study of finance. At the first meet Aug. 6, there were about forty members present. Col. P. B. Buell was called to the chair and stated the object of the meeting. Major Duffie delivered the address and took for his text:

"Money is perhaps the mightiest engine to which man can lend an intelligent guidance, unheard, unfelt, unseen, it has the power to distribute the burdens, gratifications and opportunities of life that each individual shall enjoy that share of them to which his merits or good fortune may fairly entitle him, or, contrariwise, to dispense them with so partial a hand as to violate every principle of justice and perpetuate a succession of social slaveries to the end of time." "Such a subject does not lend itself to rhetoric, it demands the full force of the intellect."

After the address the society adopted the following brief and concise constitution, viz:

CONSTITUTION.

1st. This school shall be called the Herndon Financial school.

2d. This school shall be entirely non partisan.

3d. The officers of this school shall be a president and two vice presidents, a secretary and assistant secretary, a treasurer and assistant treasurer.

4th. This school shall meet at such times and places and be governed by such rules and by laws as it may hereafter direct

Immediately thereafter the following officers were elected: President, Major J. S Duffie; first vice president, Col. P. B. Buell second vice president, Mrs. Col. Stephenson; secretary, Mr. Ray; assistant secretary Miss V. C. Castleman; treasurer, Mr. E. L. Garnet, the present mayor; assistant-treasurer, Mrs. Col. P. B. Buell. After which the school adjourned to meet again August 20th 1895, at which time it will be addressed by Hon. Henry Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., and secretary of the "American Bimetallic League."

If societies like this were established all over the country they would educate the whole people upon a sublect that vitality, affects the interest of every citizen.

Meagre Details of an Accident.

Lynchburg, Va., September 16.—Train No. 35, the fast mail from Washington to Atlanta, ran into a wagon containing five persons at Lawyers, a station twelve miles south of this city, to-night. Particulars o the wreck are very meagre. The man killed is supposed to have been Joseph Callahan, living near Rustburg. The two women and two children in the vehicle with him were killed, as was also the horse. It is said Callahan was warned not to cross the track, as the train was running very rapidly, but he would not heed the warning.

FAMILY REUNION AT STORMSTOWN.

Surviving Members of the Family of Ex-Sheriff John Thompson Gather There.

Friday, Sept. 13th, the surviving members of the family of ex-Sheriff J. Thompson, deceased, met at the old homestead now owned by A. J. Thompson, it being the first reunion at the old homestead since the death of their father in 1876. All the members of the family living were present, but Dr. J. F. Thompson, of Liverpool, Perry county, Pa.

The time was pleasantly spent during the early part of the day recalling incidents of childhood days, and looking over the old home from which they passed out so many years ago. In recalling the past, many pleasing as well as sad incidents were related by the various members of the family. One remembered how and when and under what circumstances this one left home. Another would have something to say as to how another left, etc.

Every reunion has its dark as well as pleasant side, and the voice was hushed and the eye dim, when talking of those members of the family who have passed over the river to their last resting place. Such was the case in looking back over the history of the family, Joseph Thompson having departed this life several years ago.

In this manner the time was spent until dinner was announced when all adjourned to the same old dining room in which they had assembled as boys and girls to partake of such a repast, as only Mrs. A. J. Thompson can prepare. Those of the family present were: Miss Martha Thompson, Montoursville; Dr. G W Thompson and wife, Mount Union; Mr. and Mrs. George Horlacher, (nee Lydie Thompson), Montoursville; Mr. and Mrs. A J Thompson, Stormstown; H A Thompson, D D, L L D, and wife, Dayton Ohio; H S Thompson, East Waterford, and Mrs. Mary Ann Thompson, widow of Joseph Thompson, deceased, Port Matilda.

The following nieces and nephews were present: John H. Thompson, Punxsutawney; Harry C. Thompson wife and family; Robert C Thompson, wife and family and Archie Irvin, wife and family, all of Port Matilda; Miss Elsie Thompson Williamsport; A C Thompson, Snow Shoe; J K Thompson, wife and child, Tyrone; Misses Franc, Alice and Etta, and Messrs. Charles M and Marion J Thompson all of Stormstown, Captain John A Hunter and wife, of Stormstown, spent the day with the family as invited guests.

In the evening an informal reception was held to which were invited a number who had been school mates and chums of early years. In addition to those present during the day, the following present in the evening: Mr. and Mrs. W S Gray, Mr. and Mrs. P W Burket, Mr. and Mrs. J H Lever, Mr. and Mrs. S S Sellers, and others. As this gathering of the family had been so pleasantly spent together, it was decided to hold a reunion at the old homestead once every year.

Veterans Hold Reunions.

Johnstown, Sept. 7.—A double reunion of the surviving soldiers of the 133d Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers and the 67th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers took place in this city to-day and to-night. This afternoon there was a veterans' parade through the principal streets and to-night there was a big camp fire and stirring speeches. The officers chosen by the 133d were President, Colonel Frank B. Speakman, of Coatesville: Secretary, F. S. Koontz, of Somerset. Its next meeting will be held in Somerset, September 17, 1896.

The 67th elected the following officers: President, A. A. Hendricks, Philadelphia; Vice President, John F. Staunton; Secretary, Ambrose Shapley; Treasurer, D. W. Brower. The next reunion will be held October 16, 1896, in Philadelphia, at the home of the President. This Regiment will publish a history next year.

IN any group of the important new books, an emphatic position may be assigned to a work that epitomizes many books and is related to the world of books as the orrery to the planetary system. Such is Harper's Book of Facts—far and away the most useful hand-book of universal knowledge in existence to-day. To speak of the number of pages in the entire work, or of the number of subjects treated, would be misleading, for that would be to confound merit with size; whereas the intention of the compiler and editor of Harper's Book of Facts has evidently been that the work should be as compact in form as in its scope it is encyclopaedic. The marvel is that, with all the world before it, it has not grown unduly—that it is not too large, but just a fine generous volume.

NEWS OF THE ENCAMPMENT.

eneral Irvin Robbins Has Been Selected for Adjutant General.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Commander-in-Chief Elect Walker, of the Grand Army of the Republic, was selected as adjutant general, General Irvin obbins, of Indianapolis, who has in command of the Indiana troops on the Illinois state line during the Pullman riots. Quartermaster Buest, of Rockford, Ill., will probably be reappointed.

Twenty members of the New Hampshire delegation, quartered at the Louisville House, are ill from the effects of the extreme heat. Many visitors from Massachusetts, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana and many other extreme northern states are likewise suffering. None of the cases are critical.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—The national encampment resumed its secret session at 9.30 with the intention of rushing business to effect an early adjournment. The officers of the women's Relief corps, after consultation with counsel, decided to respect the injunction issued by Judge Edmonds, requiring them to seat Mrs. Adele Clark, of Canton, O., but to oppose the making of the injunction permanent. The regular order of business was therefore commenced this morning in secret session, Mrs. Clark being president. Mrs. E. Turner, of Boston, was selected as national president by acclamation.

In the national encampment a resolution calling for the strict enforcement of the United States statutes relative to the employment of ex-soldiers in the departments was made the special order. A number of strong speeches relative to the lack of recognition given the veterans in this particular were made. The debate was still in progress at recess.

The encampment came to a close tonight with the grandest ball ever given in the south.

The South No Longer Solid.

The South was not always "solid"—not always Democratic. It was broken on the Tariff question, and will be again. Time was when the South refused to regard a "Tariff for revenue only" as its political Koran. A great upheaval, reaching beyond the silver agitation, is going on among a people who have passed through a fiery furnace that seems to have been required to make them even wiser, better and greater than they were before the war. Thirty years have sufficed to remove all old prejudices. Reconstruction is a thing of the past. The fear of "negro domination," which astute aspirants for office so long held up as the "bogie" man to frighten and consolidate the people, has departed, and upon the apex of all this gone and forgotten political lore we find agricultural and mineral development, and a commercial impetus which will, ere long, astonish the North and the whole world with its effect and results.

When the issue of slavery came to dominate parties all else of politics and economics in the South departed, and for at least ten years before the war, and ever since those things which have grown out of it have made the South "solid." There is a breaking up in North Carolina, in South Carolina, in Louisiana, in Alabama, in Tennessee, and the whole South is on the brink of a political volcano. This is not inexplicable. The South desires to advantage itself of progress, to share in the nation's development, and it cannot hope to do that under the policy of a "Tariff for revenue only." That policy has struck at sugar and rice, coal and iron, and these products, agricultural and mineral, are so powerful that their ramifications extend throughout almost every State and into banking and business circles. Protection is a policy too broad to be limited by sectional lines, and its advocates are too liberal, just and generous to withhold its beneficent effects from any part of the country desirous of embracing the advantages of that policy.

Jack Jenks was a victim of liver complaint
His strength was exhausted, his pulse had grown faint.
e had ulcers and tumors, and all sorts of humors,
And the ills he suffered would weary a saint
Folks say that Jack Jenks would never be cured,
But Jack said he would—that they might be assured.
Pierce's G. M. Discovery wrought his recovery,
After all the poor fellow so long endured

Such a multitude of serious, distressing and often fatal maladies spring from a disordered liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery creates a healthy action of this important organ, and the ills which have their origin there, such as bad blood, billiousness, indigestion and dyspepsia can be cured by its persistent use.

Tangled in a Scandal.

Macon, Mo., Sept. 13—Rev. T. Noland, formerly pastor of a church at Kansas City was arraigned before the conference of the Methodist church to-day under charge o gross immortality. The committee appointed to investigate the case sustained the charges and Noland took an appeal.

Noland is held responsible for the ruin of a young woman from Brunswick, who worked as a domestic at his house. Both mother and child subsequently died. On her deathbed the woman accused Noland of being the author of her shame. Noland is a young man with a wife and child.

After Forty Years.

By the accidental dropping of a diamond ring at the station in Winamac, Ind., on Thursday last, a husband and wife who had been separated forty years, were reunited, and they left together for Boston. Dr. Charles Mott, of Boston, stepped from the train to leave a dispatch, and as he walked toward his car a lady leaned from the window of another car and asked him to hand her a diamond ring which had just slipped from her finger and was lying at his feet. Dr. Mott picked up the ring, and the inscription on the inside read, "Charles Mott and Vera L. Burns." She cried out, "Charles, my husband." Dr. Mott clasped the wife who fled from him in anger forty years before.

In 1855 Dr. Charles Mott was a well to do young physician of Boston. He fell in love with Miss Vera L. Burns, of South Canterbury, Conn., and they were married. Mrs. Mott was jealous. One stormy night, when her husband had been detained very late by a lady patient, the crazed wife determined to stand it no longer, and packing a few personal effects she started out into the storm, leaving no trace of her whereabouts.

For years the Doctor sought for his wife. He gave up his business and traveled, seeking trace of the woman who had fled from him. At last he gave up the search and sought fortune and forgetfulness in Montana. He became very wealthy. He was on his way to New England to revisit the scenes of his childhood when the happy accident occurred which reunited him to his long lost wife.

THE Altoona Tribune makes the following apropos remarks: Parents owe important duties to the public schools. One o the most important is to see that the children are sent to school as early in the term as possible and regularly. There is noth which so militates against the child's success as irregular attendance. Even one day a week counts considerably during the term and the child feels it sensibly. It is cruelly unjust to send a child only half the time and then criticise the teacher because so little progress is made. The wonder is that there is any advance at all. Another important parental duty is to stand by the teacher in every controversy in which he and the pupil may become involved. There may be times when the parent believes gross injustice has been done his child, but however indignant he may be, or whatever he may say to the teacher in private conversation concerning the matter, a due regard for the welfare of the child requires that implicit obedience to all the commands of the teacher be insisted upon from him. Many a boy has been ruined by the injudicious partisanship of his father or mother. It is a thing that should be guarded against.

THE grand jury has found a true bill of indictment against Holmes, the alleged murderer of Pitezel and certain other persons. The Commonwealth has been working diligently on the case, and, presumably, believes it has sufficient evidence on which to convict. This, of course, only the trial will show. In the meantime, Holmes's counsel profess to be be very well satisfied with the state of affairs, and to be able to secure his acquittal in due time. If they succeed in accomplishing this in the Philadelphia courts, Holmes will still not be a free man. He is charged with numerous other murders elsewhere, notably in Toronto, Chicago and Indianapolis, and it is reasonably certain that, if he escapes here, he will have to face a jury in one or more of them.

Watch Found.

About two months or so ago, while Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard twp., was driving his cattle through one of his fields he someway or other lost his gold watch, valued at $100. He searched the field thoroughly, but all in vain. On last Tuesday morning Mr. Newlin Hall, an old resident of that neighborhood, while passing through the field in question, was lucky enough to find it. So Mr. Woodward can get his long lost treasure, by calling on Mr Hall. He should be more careful the next time, for it might get into other hands than the one it did.

A Railroad Employee Killed.

Huntingdon, Pa., September 13.—The mangled and mutilated body of James McHugh, aged about 45 years, was picked up on the railroad between the Mapleton depot station and telegraph tower at 9 o'clock. The unfortunate man's brains were spilled along the rail, and besides his hands being severed there were other sickening marks of mutilation about his body.

McHugh was a track hand engaged at work when the fatality occurred. Foreman Gillam, it seems, warned the unfortunate victim of the approach of a west bound freight train, but he either failed to hear it or was too slow in heeding it, and the train came upon him. His body was brought to this place and prepared for burial. McHugh has a wife and several children living in Johnstown.

That Taylor Cup.

Boston, Sept. 13.—General Taylor was asked to-day if his offer of a $5,000 cup for a race between the Defender and Valkyrie III had been definitely accepted or rejected, and he replied that it had not. He had been informed that Mr. Iselin was willing to race and a reply from Lord Dunrayen was expected momentarily. The general was aware that the United Press had quoted Mr. Iselin as refusing to sail against the Valkyrie but he was of the opinion that if Lord Dunrayen was agreeable to the match Mr. Iselin would be in honor bound to give him a race.

JUNIORS NOT ADMITTED.

State College Opens on Wednesday with a Large Attendance.

The Pennsylvania State College opened the collegiate year on Wednesday with the largest attendance ever known in the history of the institution. The freshman class numbered just one hundred and forty, fifty more than entered college at the beginning of last year. The regular opening exercises were held in the chapel as usual at 11 o'clock, but the seats of the prospective Junior class were conspicuous by their emptiness. This was because that body of students has not yet been admitted, owing to the recent affair between them and the faculty over an alleged cribbing at the winter history examination, and which matter has not yet been fixed up to either the satisfaction of the faculty or the students.

When the members of the class put in an appearance on Tuesday, they were confronted with notices posted in conspicuous places, saying that an examination in history would be held for the junior class in the chapel at 9 o'clock. When the hour arrived, not one of the class reported. Later in the day several members of the class applied to the faculty for the necessary tickets of admission but were refused, and told that they would first have to undergo the required history examination. This they refused to do, and the result was that not one of them was admitted to the chapel on Wednesday morning.

In his regular annual opening address, Dr. Atherton said "that he was sorry to see so many vacant seats around that should be filled, but that he anticipated soon seeing everything all right and every body in their place." But the President did not say anything to let any one know just how the affair was to be settled. The students are firm, declaring that they are in the right, as students and in a legal way, and that they will never yield what they deem their rights. On the other hand the faculty seem as determined and firm as the students are, and just what the outcome of the affair will be is hard to tell at this writing. But one thing is certain, it is an unfortunate piece of business, and will be a bad precedent, no difference who wins.

Storing Potatoes.

A perfect store place is capable of being kept quite dark and cool, but quite safe from frost. Therefore it should be at least partially under the ground level, as being the easiest way of keeping frost at bay. If stored in sheds, they should not be put into large masses directly after they are lifted, for they are likely to generate more warmth than is good for them, but if spread out rather thinly at first, they may, after a fortnight, be placed much thicker without any heating. But where large quantities have to be kept through the winter there is no better plan than placing them in mounds, according to the Gardener's Magazine, which advises as follows:

Select a place a little above the general level, so as to be quite safe from flooding after heavy rains, and having marked out the space required, put in a good layer of straw. Proceed to pack the potatoes into a conical long heap, cover with straw, and then place a sufficient thickness of soil to keep out the frost, and beat it down so firm and smooth that the rain will run off into the trench surrounding it. The top should not be quite covered up until severe frost renders it necessary to do so.

For the Little Ones.

Parents should be very watchful over their children during the fall months, as well as in summer, to see that they do not drink very cold water when overheated; also that they do not expose themselves to draughts when they are very warm, and that they do not sleep in direct draughts either in the daytime or at night.

Coughs and colds are often prevalent now in families where there are several little ones to be watched over. A valuable home remedy is boneset tea; made by pouring one-half pints of boiling water over a ten-cent package of boneset. Let it steep at the side of the fire for ten or fifteen minutes, then strain it. Sweeten with two cupfuls of lump sugar and bottle at. A child should take a teaspoonful before each meal, until the cold is cured.

Work for Bellefonte.

The following from an exchange is not inappropriate: "Bury the calamity bowler out in the woods, in a beautiful hole in the ground, and the wood-pecker pecks, and the straddle bugs straddle around. He is no good to the city of push, too unpractical, stingy and dead; but he wants the whole earth and all of the crust, and the stars that shine overhead. Then hustle him off to the bumble bee's roost, and bury him deep in the ground; he's no use to us here, get him out of the way, and make room for a man that is sound."

"I have a dear little babe, and am well. I thank Mrs. Pinkham for this, and so could other motherless women. I was a victim of Female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me."—MRS. GEO. C. KIRCHNER, 351 Snediker Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

IN paint the best is the cheapest. Don't be misled by trying what is said to be "just as good," but when you paint insist upon having a genuine brand of

Strictly Pure White Lead

It costs no more per gallon than cheap paints, and lasts many times as long.

"Fahnestock."

NATIONAL LEAD CO., New York.
Pittsburg Branch,

Some Building Don'ts.

Don't set your studding until the floors are first laid. If you do, holes are left, rats and mice get in and a draft from the cellar helps to roast 'em.

Don't allow more than three feet up and down between studding without a cross-piece of same width. If you do, every pair of studs forms a draft hole, and the firemen may be blamed for not getting their quick enough.

Don't run your stove-pipe into a flue on the attic. If you do, and the pipe, or the pipe and flue, become divorced, because of family jars down below, it gets hotter up there than any divorce proceedings ever heard of on the first floor.

Don't put up one of those pretty terra cotta flues. They make every honest brick chimney about the neighborhood tremble with apprehension. Some cold and windy day, with a hot fire down below, it expands inside with the heat, contracts outside with the cold, cracks in two at the root, and moving day comes in January.

Don't give your children matches to play jack straws with. The regular article costs much less than either a fine or a funeral.

Don't light your fires with kerosene oil. Neighbors don't like to be bothered by other people's funerals.

Don't knock a hole in the wall down at the floor when there is a fire between the plaster of a partition. It gives you so little time to save your furniture. Knock a hole in up at the ceiling and pour water down and you may not need to move.

It's Beauty Gone.

A forlorn and dreary spot is the site of the old South Fork dam above Johnstown. It was the bursting of this great dam that flooded Johnstown in May 1889. This Conemaugh lake, as it is sometimes called was fourteen miles above the city. Upon its shores stand twenty-five cottages, mostly owned by wealthy residents of western Pennsylvania. After the lake had gone and the water accomplished its destructive work, the place was deserted and has only been visited by sight-seers, eager to gaze upon the trap that that caused a calamity known al over the world. Through its broken breast and the centre of the lake now runs the South Fork and Dunlo railroad, and right in its heart a wagon road and a small bridge have been erected. The beautiful cottages, deserted and neglected so long, are gradually decaying. The walks and handsome lawns are no more, and the cottage fronts present a very dilapidated appearance.

Speeding Railroad Trains.

Speed in railroading is evidently progressing in the United States, a train on the New York Central Railroad having been run a distance of 436½ consecutive miles in 407 minutes, an average of 64 1-3 miles an hour, or more than a mile a minute. This beats the English record for fast running, which is 63¼ miles per hour. There may be wisdom in such speed bursts in the estimation of railroaders, but the great majority of riders will be satisfied with a less rate of locomotion. An accident to a train running at the rate of a mile a minute would almost certainly result in the killing or wounding of every soul on board. In some things it is wise to make haste slowly, at least more slowly than a mile a minute.

Attracts Lightning.

Statistics show more well filled barns to be destroyed by lightning than empty ones; that is, the risk after harvest is greater than before. The department at Washington investigated and gives reasons as follows: Before the harvest the stalks of growing grains and grasses, with their many points and heads, acts as conductors of electricity, and serves as discharging points, to some degree neutralizing the electric stress in the air. After harvest the fields are more or less bare, and the electric tension must be relieved through buildings and prominent features in the landscape.

IF your blood is the cause of that tired, languid feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood and gives renewed vigor.

A Small Judicious Investment Often Brings a Fortune.

DEAR READERS:

We have heard from many of you during the brief period that our advertisement appeared in this space. Any others desiring full reports and statements can secure same by writing to us.

The further opening up of the South Central group of gold mines, and the erection of a Stamp Mill to reduce the company's ore to bullion, is a square, legitimate use of capital.

1. Mr, Barry, formerly of Cripple Creek, the Bonanza gold camp of Colorado, sold his interests there, and bought the Morning Star gold mine, a producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

2. Captain Plummer, formerly of the Granite Mountain mine, is now working the Delamar Mine, a large producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

As the Granite Mountain (Gold and Silver Mining Co.) stock rose from about twelve cents a share to over $50 a share, and paid from 25 cents to 50 cents per share per month in dividends, under the superintendency of Captain Plummer, we consider him a pretty safe guide to follow in mining, and we invite you to participate in the nyestment.

THE BOILER WENT UP.

But Fortunately No Great Damage Was Done Thereby.

Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 13.—Considerable damage was done at the L. C. Fritch stave mill, in South Huntingdon, this afternoon, by reason of a boiler explosion. An imperfection in the boiler head is the only thing that can be ascribed as the cause of the unusual occurrence. The explosion took place without the slightest warning, but fortunately none of the several employes about the mill were seriously injured. Blair White, one of the engineers, suffered an ugly bruise on one of his hands by reason of being struck by a flying missile.

Side by side are two fifty-horsepower boilers, and a hole about four feet square in the one is the result of the explosion. At the time the guages registered 100 pounds pressure of steam, and the force of the blow up hurled the flume, which weighed a ton, between the two boilers clear through the roof and over fifty feet in the air. The seventy-foot smoke stack was blown from its fastenings and sent it at least a distance of sixty feet in an open field. It was badly wrecked, as was also the flume. The boiler shed roof was badly delapidated, and the building itself was left in bad shape.

There will be no time lost in repairing the damage and again starting the works.

The U. O. A. M. Still in Session.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The session this morning in Independence hall of the national council of U. O. A. M. was devoted to the discussion of the reports of the national councillor and the national secretary. The reports showed an increase in membership, principally in the western states, and also showed the order to be in good financial condition.

The national councillor recommended a badge or jewel be adopted which should serve as an honorable decoration for ex-national councillors.

The most important recommendation made by the national councillor in his report was that the committee on law should frame a law designating certain officers of the national council who shall act as a board of officers to serve throughout the year. At present, so far as executive action goes, the entire authority of the order is vested in the national councillor. The committee on law, pursuant to this recommendation, named as constituting the board the following: National councillor, national vice councillor, junior ex-national councillor, national secretary and national treasurer.

Paying the Mora Claim.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—The details for the payment of the Mora claim have been definitely arranged, and the draft prepared for transfer to-morrow. It will call for the equivalent in English pounds sterling of $1,449,000, will be signed by Mr. Dupuy de Lome as Spanish minister, made payable to Mr. Olney, as secretary of state, and will be drawn upon Spain's financial agent in London. Mr. de Lome in person will hand the note to Acting Secretary Adee, who as such, will have authority to indorse the draft in the absence of Mr. Olney.

The loss of $51,000 from the amount of $1,500,000 originally agreed upon is due to the difference between the value of the Spanish pezo and the American gold dollar.

Must Not Annoy Residents.

At the last session of the legislature an act was passed which provides: That from and after the passage of this act if any person or persons shall willfully make or cause to be made any loud boisterous and unseemly noise or disturbance to the annoyance of the peaceful residents nearby, or shall thereby cause the assemblage of persons upon or near to any public highway, road, street, lane, alley, park, square, or common within this commonwealth, whereby the public peace is broken or disturbed, or the traveling public annoyed, he, she or they shall be guilty of the offense of disorderly conduct, and upon conviction thereof before the justice of the peace, alderman, mayor or burgess shall be sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and to forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding ten dollars, and in default for the payment thereof shall be committed to and imprisoned in the county jail of the proper county for a period not exceeding thirty days.

The act further provides that these fines must be paid over to the county treasurers on or before the first Monday of March June, September and December of each year.

NEW DISCOVERY.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Crown Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Terry's Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons.

Price of Silvereen set, $2.00. 17-2y.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14, 1895.

Affairs in Wall Street have shown some change since our advices of last week. The "bear" side has certainly been more aggressive than their opponents; the "bull" side still persisting however in its conviction that the situation is a good one; while the "bear" side on the other hand insisting that the current and prospective uncertainties call for a caution attitude and warrant some unloading. The 'longs' try to support prices rather than force advances; while the "shorts" are cautions about over selling the market. As the point on which difference centres is chiefly as to whether the rise in prices, since March 6th, is warranted by the change in the general situation, it may help to a conclusion if we present the following comparison of prices of leading stocks now and on the 6th of March:—

	March 6,	Sept 11	Advc.
Atchison Topeka & S. F	3⅜	21	17⅝
Canadian Pacific	40¼	57	16¾
Canada Southern	48½	55½	7
Cent New Jersey	85⅝	111½	25⅞
Mil. & St Paul	54⅜	76 3-4	22
Chicago & N Western	88¼	104	15 3-4
Rock Island	61⅜	80½	18 3-4
Del & Lack	157½	163¾	6¼
Illinois Central	84½	104½	20
Louisville & Nashville	48⅝	64	1 3/8
Mo., Kan & Texas	13⅝	18½	4⅞
Mo., Kan. & Tex pfd	21	39½	18½
Missouri Pacific	19½	39	19½
N Y C & H R	95½	103	7 3-8
Texas & Pacific	8⅜	12 3-4	3⅝
Wabash pfd	12 7-8	24 3-4	11⅞
Sugar Ref	91½	111½	19 3-4
American Tobacco	91¾	96¼	5⅛
Western Union Tel	86⅝	93⅛	6⅝

The advance is to be taken as expressing the estimated improvement in the value of stocks due to such recovery in the industrial, commercial and financial condition of the country as has occurred in connection with the Syndicate's regulation of the gold movement. It is to be noted, however, that so far, there has been as a rule, only a nominal improvement in the earning capacity of the railroads. This rise in the prices of stocks has therefore been anticipatory of an increase in earnings which it is assumed will be forthcoming when the improved conditions of trade and the forwarding of the new crops have more fully worked out their results. It is proper to note that this is a double assumption in which it is taken for granted not only that the earnings of the roads will improve but also that there will be no failure in the realization of the conditions on which the improvement is predicted, namely, the early complete remedy of the derangements which have caused the Treasury gold embarrassments. The fact that this latter assumption has not yet been finally placed beyond the possibility of failure is the point on which the "bears" rest their main strength; and it is one to which minds pessimistically disposed will naturally attach some material importance. Individually, I think there is a very strong preponderance of probability that, within the next few weeks, arrangements will be completed by which the Treasury difficulties will be so adjusted as to remove al necessity for further issues of bonds and exempt the Government from all further serious drains upon its gold. To my view, there is nothing in the situation to prevent an arrangement being reached, as between the Treasury, the banks and the Syndicate, by which exchanges of gold between the banks and the Sub-Treasury would be restored to the harmonious and conservative relations existing before 1893 and there are apparent symptoms that an effort may be made in that direction at no very distant day. But nevertheless there are diversities of opinion on the chances of such an early settlement; few understand the intricacies of the situation; some are misled by impossible schemes; and everybody is in the dark to what measure of relief may or may not be provided. All this means uncertainty and suspense, which can only become the more troublesome the longer it is continued. It does not appear either reasonable or safe to boldly increase holdings of stock so long as there is no relief from the unsettled state o things; and we can only from the moment recommend to our friends a careful and tentative attitude, hoping for the best outcome, but not prematurely acting on that hope.

The more immediate factors occupying the attention of operators are the prospect of gold exports and the crops. At the moment, the shipments of specie show some tendency to diminish; but it is very difficult to judge how far this drift may run. The unknown "short" factor in exchange accumulated of late baffles all calculations; and all that can be said is that every motion seems to favor the Syndicate soon averting the present large exports of gold; and yet, in the present comparative absence of wheat and cotton bills, it seems possible they may find it necessary to permit some further amount of gold to be shipped. In two more weeks, the contract between the Treasury and the bankers will end according to its terms, and that period is awaited with much interest as possible introducing some new features into the situation, which suggests a motive for the exercise of conservatism on the buying side of the market.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

The Door of Life.

The fear of pain and the dangers of parturition fill many a woman's breast with dismay. There is no reason why childbirth should be fraught with danger and distress. It is a perfectly natural function, and should be performed in a natural way without undue suffering. Nature never intended that women should be tortured when doing the one thing which makes them wholly womanly. The perversion of nature's laws has brought this suffering about, and a return to right living will stop it.

Nine out of ten women are troubled more or less by weakness and diseases peculiar to their sex. It is so because they do not take proper care of themselves—because they neglect little ills and little precautions. A woman in perfectly hearty health goes through her time of trial with comparative ease. The thing to do then, is to make all expectant mothers healthy — to strengthen them generally and locally. The medicine and tonic to do it with is Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It is a powerful invigorant and nervine. It soothes and strengthens the nerves and acts directly on the feminine organism in a way which fits it for the proper and regular performance of all its functions at all times.

Taken during gestation it robs childbirth of its dangers to both mother and child, by preparing the system for delivery thereby shortening labor, lessening pain and abbreviating the period of confinement.

A Book of 168 pages on "Woman and Her Diseases" and telling how to cure them with home-treatment, 10 cents (stamps) to part cover postage. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

Louisville, Chickamauga.

Of the fraternizing results of the encampment at Louisville, which was really a reunion of the veterans of the union and confederate armies, there cannot be any doubt. The men of the North and of the South, who had been driven farthest apart by the bitter experiences of war, were drawn closer together at Louisville than they had ever been before, and the spirit of reconciliation there manifested will continue to increase in fervor until the last trace of sectional hate shall have been obliterated.

This week there is to be a great gathering on the battlefield of Chickamauga, commemorative of the historic struggle between the armies of the blue and the gray thirty-two years ago, for the possession of Chattanooga. A good many of the union veterans will attend and take part in the ceremonies of dedicating the battlefield as a national military park. It is fitting that the ground should be so preserved since it was the scene of one of the most important conflicts of the civil war, and attested at once the highest skill in American generalship and the courage and fortitude of the troops engaged.

In a short time the exposition at Atlanta will be thrown open for the reception of visitors, and from all quarters of the globe will set in a steady stream of travel in that direction. The greatest number will hail from the populous states of the North. Here again will be an occasion for continuing the good work of fraternization, so auspiciously begun at Louisville. There are many reasons why the New England, the Middle and the Northwestern states should send their hundreds of thousands across the country to the flourishing and progressive city of Atlanta, to witness what can be done in the way of a distinctively southern exposition. The success of the enterprise seems already assured. There are attractions to northern visitors in the country which must be traversed in reaching. Atlanta that will prove equal to much to be seen upon the exposition grounds. Georgia and adjoining states seems destined to be the abiding places of hundreds of thousands of northern people. Their drift thitherward, has been steadily increasing, and many heads of families who have had their faces set in that direction will take advantage of the cheap fares and see how the land strikes them.

ONE of the most novel yachting experiences the enthusiast can enjoy, "A Cruise on the Norfolk Broads," is described by Mrs. Anna Bowman Dodd in the October number of The Century. Here one exchanges views of the sea for glimpses of English meadows; hedge-rows brush against the sails, boats dart out from behind barns, and the waving grain stretches almost to the gunwale. Then there are the sleepy old English villages, with their wealth of romance, on every side. It is like yachting on dry land. Joseph Pennell furnishes characteristic drawings for the article.

Diamond Thieves Arrested.

Chicago, September 17.—The police today arrested two notorious New York diamond thieves May Murray and Minnie Penfield alias Kenney, best known outside of New York city as "New York May." They have been operating with success in Chicago during the last month. The best case against them is that of stealing $500 worth of diamonds from the stores of Casper & Barnes, a member of the firm having recognized the women.

HARPER & BROTHERS have in preparation a uniform edition of Mark Twain's works. The first volume, entitled Life on the Mississippi, will be issued before the end of the year.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Sept. 16, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Members of the administration are much chagrinded and more alarmed over that statement published by the bond syndicate, which, by the way, is one of those explanations which do not explain. Some of the language in that statement was certainly not calculated to allay the fears of Secretary Carlisle concerning the maintenance of the gold reserve. For instance, the assertion that the syndicate, although under no obligation to do so, would continue to January 1, to deposit gold "if existing conditions make it feasible to do so." The administration fears that "existing conditions" in this case will mean whether it will be to the interest of the syndicate to furnish the Treasury with gold. The syndicate added to the demoralization of Mr. Carlisle and his fellow democrats when it said: "But neither the bond syndicate nor any one else can control the elements." After all what frightened Mr. Carlisle even worse than the significant wording of the public statement of the bond syndicate was the fac that a member of the syndicate withdrew from the Treasury and exported $2,500,000 of the $7,200,000 in gold sent to Europe last week the largest shipments ever made in one week, with the single exception of a week in last January when the total sent was a half million in excess of last week. Secretery Carlisle makes no pretense of being master of, or even of being one of the controlling factors in the financial situation; he is simply drifting, trusting to luck and the bond syndicate, seemingly without an idea of what he will do or try to do in case neither keeps the gold reserve above the danger line. There never was a time when a financier was more needed at the head of the treasury. With an able man directing our finances there would be no more bond issues in times of profound peace, but the able man is lacking and the bond issues will come again in due time.

Perhaps the Civil Service Commission isn't trying to add the administration in its efforts to control the next democratic national convention, but all the same that will be the practical result of its official announcement that it is no violation of the civil service rules for an office holder to attend a political convention as a delegate. The Commissioners evidently realize that Mr. Cleveland intends the letter he wrote during his first term against the identical thing to be ignored.

The talk about the administration's intention of adopting a vigorous foreign policy has been revived in connection with the rumor that the belligerency of the Cuban Revolutionists is shortly to be recognized. It will be time enough however, to believe in such a radical change when some steps have actually been taken towards such a policy. Until then the people only have the record it has made to judge the administration by, and a microscopical examination would fail to show one single vigorous act in that record.

According to visiting republicans, the prospects of success in Maryland and Kentucky continues to improve. The administration has made no move to indicate that it wishes the success of the Gorman ticket in the former state, and there is nothing to indicate that it will. At least one member of the Cabinet Hoke Smith is credited with wishing defeat for the Gorman ticket. Mr. W. Wines, of Owensboro, Ky., who was a member of the last republican state convention, is now in Washington. He says; "The division in the democratic party on the silver question is favorable to republican success. Up to the present time there have been apathy and discouragement in the rank and file of the democratic party. Whether they will ultimately pull themselves together, time can only determine. I am perfectly confident that the state will go republican."

IT is a pleasure to note the promptness with which the New York Press, in its issue of August 20, contradicted and exposed the deliberately distorted misstatements published in the World of the previous day in regard to the effect of the Wilson Tariff upon certain industries. The cause of Protection has long been in need of a daily paper in New York that would do just such work, namely, closely analyze the misstatements made by the Free-Trade press and promptly expose their falsity.

IF Grover Cleveland could "see himself as others see him," that is those who are not looking through officials glasses, or piling up wealth through Governor's action, he would see nothing but a very small soul and brain in a very large man.

How does it happen that a president of the United States can become a millionaire on a salary of $50,000 a year? President Cleveland is the only president thi country ever had who can answer.

Denies the Statement.

New York, Sept. 16.—Mr. T. Estrada Palma, delegate of the Cuban revolutionists to New York, to-day made the following statement: "It is reported in the newspapers that Senor Enrique Moreno, who, it is said, represents himself as an agent of the New York Cuban Junta, is at St. Louis, Mo., enlisting men for service in Cuba. Such report has no foundation in fact. Senor Moreno is not an agent of the New York Junta, nor do I know who the gentleman is."

State Sabbath School Convention.

One of the prominent institutions of Pennsylvania is our State Sabbath school association, in which Christians of all names are organized for the purpose of advancing the interests of Sunday Schoo work in every way, and of gaining closer co-operation in the matter of saving souls from sin. Its officials include many distinguished persons, and its annual convention will always be of absorbing interest. The last one, held at Huntingdon, was largely attended, but every indication points to a still larger attendance, this year at Williamsport, October 8, 9 and 10 The Sunday School Herald, organ of the association, has been for months bristling with points concerning the convention, and now and elegant souvenir program has been issued, and the whole state is invited to come up and participate in the great gathering at Williamsport. Full particulars may be obtained by addressing the secretary, Dr. C. J. Kephart, Annville, Pa.

First Annual Session of the National Hay Association, at Cincinnati, Ohio September 24, 1895.

The National Hay Association, organized at Cleveland, O., last January, will hold its second annual convention at Cincinnati, O., beginning September 24th. Reduced rates will be made on all railroads for those desiring to attend, and special rates will also be given by the hotels at Cincinnati.

The association has accomplished much to benefit the trade even in the short period of its existence, but there is much more that can be done, and by united effort on the part of hay shippers and dealers throughout the country, many sources of annoyance that now exist in the business can be greatly modified, if not entirely remedied.

Since its organization the association had its standard of grades on hay and straw adopted in most of the leading markets of the country, and with a strong push and a push altogether, there is no reason why its grades should not be the recognized standard in all markets, making the grades of hay the same everywhere.

All shippers, dealers or receivers of hay or straw are invited to attend this convention, and if they are not already members of the association, to become such, and lend their assistance to improve and elevate the hay business, and secure for it the recognition before the commercial world that its importance entitles it to. Improved facilities of transportation, terminal deliveries, storage, etc., uniform grading in all markets; all these and many others are matters of much importance, and by united action through the association much can be done that will be a direct benefit to everyone in any way connected with the marketing of this great commodity.
P. W. PITT,
Secretary and Treasurer.

The Murderer Escaped.

Central City, W. Va., Sept. 17.—News has just reached this city of a horrible shooting affray which took place on Davis Branch last night. An apple-pearing was in progress, largely attended by both men and women. A dispute arose between John Chaffins and Jink Thompson, when the latter pulled a gun and began firing at his antagonist. Chaffins was shot twice in the bowels, once in the shoulder and once through the hand. His wounds are fatal. Miss Emily Sparks, a young woman acting as a peacemaker, was shot in the left side and seriously wounded. Thompson made his escape and has not yet been captured.

The Sons of Veterans.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 16.—The ninth annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans of the United States assembled in Nashville to-day, Commander in Chief William E. Burdy, of Cincinnati, presiding. Every state division with the exception of Colorado, California and Oregon is represented. Three thousand visitors are in attendance, among them Past Commander in Chief Thomas G. Lawler and staff, of the Grand Army of the Republic; General Upham, of Wisconsin; Woodbury, of Connecticut, and Watts, of New Jersey.

IT has often been asserted that the slow processes of the criminal Courts and the frequent failure of justice therein encourages lynchings. The mob which, on Wednesday last, attempted to lynch a negro convicted of a capital offence, at Bristol, Tenn., had no such excuse. The prisoner was put on his trial on that day, was convicted in a few minutes and sentenced to be hung on October 11, or within a month after trial. So far as the Court is concerned the proceedings were quite rapid enough in this instance.

—Notwithstanding the inclement weather, there was quite a large crowd went over to the picnic. This was probably because it was temperance day, and a little rain more or less would make no difference to the cold water people.

—Governor D. H. Hastings is still at the Holland House, in New York, where he told a reporter the other day that he never in his life talked for the newspapers; and that he has found that it has been the means of giving him great peace of mind.

A Railroad President Dead.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Joshua W. Woolston, president of the Nesquehoning Valley Railroad company, which is leased to the Central Railroad of New Jersey, died at his home on Saturday night at his home in Germantown, a suburb of Philadelphia, aged 74 years.

He had been in ill health for over a year. Mr. Woolston was interested in a large number of coal and railroad corporations and was for many years treasurer, and afterwards president of the Delaware Division Canal company. He was also a director of the Nesquehoning Valley railroad and became its president upon the death of President J. B. Moorhead in October, 1889.

Of these twenty-four new cases since last advices, and fifteen of them resulted fatally. Out of a total of fifty-eight cases there have been forty-four deaths.

An Excellent Musical Entertainment

The famous Rock Band Concert Company, (the Till family) will give one of their extraordinary concerts in the Methodist church Thursday evening, Sept. 19th. The most noticeable feature in the entertainment given by this talented family is what they have named the Rock Harmonican. This instrument is made of stone found in the Lake district of Cumberland, England. They are so arranged that the most difficult music can be played on them. The company will also render selections on seventeen different instruments. Don't miss this grand musical treat. Tickets on sale at Schreyer & Rees, 35 and 25 cts.

In This Case the Strikers Won.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 16.—The strikers have just returned from the park. As near as can be learned the desperate fight of the steam shovel and pump men, in the interest of resuming work, was successful, and they finally won. They will apply for work to-night. Committees were selected to wait upon the mining companies in the interest of miners and mine laborers. If the companies will agree to let the troops be returned home the miners and laborers will return to work. The strike is certainly ended.

FOR A SECOND WELL.

Operations to Be Resumed by Salt Lick Company.

This morning the contract for the drilling of the second well for the Salt Lick gas and oil company was signed by parties interested. Mr. Grove, of the drilling firm of Grove Bros., of Tionesta, and L. C. McCloskey, of Pottersdale, president of the company, were both in the city. To-morrow Messrs. McCloskey, J. H. Hunter and J. A. Heckendorn, also of Pottersdale, with Mr. Grove, will go to the oil field to select the spot where the drill shall be started. It is probable that the second well will be drilled about two miles northwest of the first well, and on higher ground, which spot will be about three miles from Karthaus. It is the intention to go to a depth of at least 1,600 feet before stopping The depth, however, will be governed by the character of the sand that will be struck as the drill penetrates the earth After the site is selected the derrick and other rigging will be placed in position, whith will take about two weeks, and then drilling will begin.

Mr. Grove, the driller, sank the first well and he is very confident that oil and gas can be found there. His confidence comes from the fact that the sands and soil bear all the indications of possessing the illuminants. He is also confident that had it not been for the salt water, oil and gas would have been struck in the first well, and it is to lessen the probability of striking salt water that the second will be sunk on higher ground.

Farming on a Large Scale.

A correspondent thus describes farming, as it is done in Minnesota: "The farm is owned and managed by two brothers, James and Samuel Hayes, formerly Union county boys. The farm contains twenty-one hundred acres, twelve hundred of which they had in wheat this season, two hundred in corn aad two hundred in barley, and they will have over thirty thousand bushel of grain this year. They work twenty-five men, seventy horses, and run ten binders of the Deering make, and as James expressed it, it looked grand and stirring when these were at work at one time. They are threshing now and have ten teams hauling to the thresher, and the same number hauling the grain to the railroad station. The straw is burned at night and its a spectacle worth seeing, as in this level country it can be seen for a great distance. They planted out this spring for wind brakes and fuel 90,000 trees."

THE almost universal tone of comment in this country upon the unfortunate outcome of the contest for the America's cup is that of sincere regret, not so much concerning the actual race—for everyone regards the superiority of Defender as clearly established—but that a friendly meeting should end in disagreement. While Americans generally feel that their representatives were in no way at fault, they would have acquiesced gladly in any honorable concession to keep a guest in good humor, if it were possible, and they feel much more grieved than angry at what seems to them an exhibition of bad temper. As to the bullying observations of ome English papers, it would be undignified to take them too seriously.

ELECTIONS take place this year in eleven States, one-quarter of the whole number, and but few are really important. The States voting are Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania. A Governor will be returned in Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey and Ohio, and four of the seven now have Democratic Governors. Besides these Utah will abandon the Territorial stage and become a State, choosing a full set of officers. The interesting contests are in Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey and Ohio.

A Long Trestlework.

The new coaling trestle of the Fall Brook railway, now being finished in the Corning yard, is the largest on the road. It is built more substantially than usual for such structures, being composed of the best quality of Georgia Pine with stone and cement foundation. The length is 15 feet, with a gradual rising approach of 50 feet, making 765 feet in all. The trestle is 32 feet in extreme height, accommodating a single track.

THEY HAD A BIG TIME.

But They Failed in Pulling C. M. Bower Through for Judge.

All in all, there were just 214 democrats went from Bellefonte to Williamsport to attend the democratic state convention, and they one and all went with but one purpose in view, and that to do all they could to have C. M. Bower, of this place, nominated as one of the candidates for judge of the superior court. And, it can truly be said, that they did some great work; at least some of them did. Al. Garman had his coat off and Collector Meek with Jake Runkle and a whole host of others, put forth the most strenuous efforts, but it all availed them not. The powers that seemed to rule the convention were in the majority, and Bellefonte got left for once.

At one time, though, it looked very much as if Bower was going to make it; and the Bellefonte crowd really did think that he was nominated. It was on the second ballot, and Bower had a majority of the votes cast, as a large number of the delegates had left the hall, but, under democratic rules, it requires a majority of the delegates constituting the convention, and on the third ballot, by Philadelphia and Pittsburg going against Bellefonte's candidate almost solid, Judge Magee was nominated. But in one thing the democrats can congratulate themselves, that defeat now will not be half so hard to bear as defeat at the polls in November, and that is what just six of their candidates are sure to get. Postmaster D. F. Fortney made thespeech nominating Mr. Bower, and it is said to have been one of the best made at the convention. The special train which brought the Bellefonte delegation home arrived here at just 15 minutes of one o'clock this morning.

Wages May Go Up in October.

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—The conference between Secretary Jarrett, of the Iron and Steel Sheet Manufacturers' association and President Garland, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, was held this morning. No change in the wages of the sheet mill workers for Sept. and Oct. will be made. It had been expected that the average selling prices for July and August would justify an advance of at least 2 per cent. on the wage schedule. Wages will be substantially advanced in October if present prices are maintained for sixty days preceding the time for settlement. This afternoon President Garland went to Youngstown, Ohio, to confer with Mahoning and Shenango Valley manufacturers on the puddling wages scale.

Met With a Serious Accident.

Pittsburg, September 11—Dr. George A. Henderson, a dentist, is at the West Penn hospital in a critical condition, the result of a gunshot wound. Both eyes were destroyed and it is feared that portions of his throat have been penetrated. James A. Carep, of No. 731 Fifth avenue, also received a part of the contents of the gun in his left shoulder. His injuries are not serious. The shooting resulted last evening from the accidental discharge of a gun at a fishing camp near Wellsville, Ohio, Henderson and Carey were brought to Pittsburg last night by T. D. Davis, who is also a member of the club, which is composed of local business and professional men.

Are Bicycles Baggage.

The enormous number of them carried by railways has brought up the question whether or not bicycles can properly be considered baggage. The argument in favor of it is that the rider who has a bicycle does not have a trunk and one should be considered as taking the place of the other. But the handling and care of a bicycle is difficult, and some of the railroads charge for them. The League of American Wheelmen proposes that all railroads shall carry bicycles free.

Married at Port Matilda.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Cheyney, of Port Matilda, Centre county, Pa., Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The Rev. George W. Downing pronounced the words that bound together for life Mr. Harry A. McKinney and Miss Mary Miles. After the ceremony came congratulations and a fine wedding breakfast, when the bride and groom departed for Philadelphia and Reading. Showers of blessings and rice followed them to the train.

MADE A SCENE.

Ex-Governor Thayer, of Nebraska, at a Camp Fire.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Ex-Governor John M. Thayer, of Nebraska, was almost hooted from the platform at the Grand Army camp fire at Pheonix Hill last night, which was participated in by a crowd of 10,000. Early in the evening addresses were delivered by Congressman-Elect Evans and ex-Governor Buckner and it was close on to 11 o'clock when the Nebraskan was introduced. After talking of war times and the flag he suddenly shot off on a new tack and commended Cleveland for calling out the United States soldiers to put down the laboring men in Chicago a year ago. He called Governor Altgeld an anarchist and denounced E. V Debs for everything under the sun. Then he switched about and said: "Colonel Evans, you're the next republican congressman from this district. I hoped to meet more of them here to-night. I call on you to amend the naturalization laws when you go to congress so as to shut out the dago of Italy and emigrants of other European countries."

Thousands in the audience immediately shouted: "Shut up!" "Sit down!" Colonel Evans advanced to the front of the platform and asked the audience to give Gov. Thayer a hearing. Silence reigned for a moment and he began. He said he had made speeches over one thousand times, but never before had he been interrupted. "I don't know why it was," he said. A voice from the audience responded: "You don't know any better."

General Thayer attemped to continue his talk on the same line, but by this time the entire audience was in an uproar and there were cries of "Take him away," "We won't hear him." He managed to say: "I thank all respectable people in the audience for the polite attention they have accorded me. For the disrespectable people I have nothing but contempt," and then left the platform.

The Committee's Decision.

The cup committee of the New York Yacht Club have shown dignity and sportsmanlike spirit in their management of the extremely delicate and very unfortunate question before them. But the decision which they unwillingly reached will satisfy nobody.

The satisfactory part of the affair is that the committee and Mr. Iselin were all anxious to have the race resailed. Could Lord Dunraven have seen his way to this there would not now be the blot of a technical decision on the honorable record attaching to the American Cup. That there is will be much regretted both in England and in America; and we do not hesitate to say that most Americans would have preferred to see the verdict on a technicality given to Valkyrie rather than Defender.

Being forced to decide, however, the committee could hardly go in the face of their convictions for the sake of gratifying sentiment, If in their view the testimony showed Valkyrie to be in the wrong, Lord Dunraven had to be given the judgment he asked for.

If it is still possible for Mr. Iselin to arrange another race in place of the one on which the foul occurred, he will greatly gratify his countrymen; and Lord Dunraven will gratify his if he foregoes his conviction of his own rectitude. Truth to tell, he should have felt about Valkyrie as we feel about Defender, that she is too good a boat to win on a technicality or a foul.

Brutality Without Parallel.

Another chapter of the Turkish outrages in Armenia, just made public, will cause a shudder throughout the civilized world. It is not merely that the Armenians have been treated brutally, but because that inhuman treatment has been visited by a monarch upon his own subjects. Savages are apt to indulge beastly outrages upon the enemy they have been victorious over, but the plundering, murder and maltreatment by a Government of its own subjects is unparalleled.

The Sublime Porte is a sublime fraud. The Mussulman is a brute without bowels of compassion. While the Sultan dissembles and promises his Khurdish thugsg o on with their villainous work of robbing slaying and maltreating the Christians who are so unfortunate as to be in their power.

Lord Salisbury's blunt declaration that the Porte must immediately concede the reforms demanded by the powers or that he will proceed to effect them is not one wit too strong. The civilized powers of Europe owe it to humanity to take the matter in hand and protect the helpless Armenians, if they have to dismember or destroy the Ottoman Empire to do it. There should be neither compromise nor delay.

Big Wedding.

The hospitable home of Andrew Korman, near Farmers' Mills, on Monday last was the scene of one of the largest and happiest wedding gatherings ever held in this section. It was the occasion of the marriage of his son Oliver T. to Miss Tillie Keller, one of Madisonburg's most esteemed young ladies. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Eisenberg. There were some 200 guests present. The supper was a most elaborate spread, embracing all good things that the varied appetites could crave. The presents were numerous and of a useful choice. The bride was elegantly attired, a picture of happiness and loveliness; the groom is one of the most worthy young men of that community.

THE NEW WOMEN,

Gave a Delightful Party to Their Fair Partners Thursday Night.

The "new woman" seems to be making more rapid strides in Bellefonte than anywhere we have noticed. On Thursday evening a very enjoyable assembly was given in the new armory by the young ladies of Bellefonte to the derelict young gentlemen, which was thoroughly a leap year affair, though a little ahead of the proper date. The ladies assumed the place usually taken by the gentlemen and carried their part out successfully in every detail.

The patronesses of the occasion were Mr. Frank Montgomery, Gen. Wilbur F. Reeder and Captain Henry C. Quigley, all of whom performed their parts with as much grace and dignity as the Queen of England could do; and which at once proved that they could very easily adapt themselves to the new order of things when the women assume the position of bread-winners and the men stay at home and take care of the babies and receive their gentlemen callers.

The debutantes of the evening were Mr. Frank Rhoads and Mr. Maurice Jackson, both of whom were arrayed in the latest fashion, but their costumes were entirely devoid of ornaments of any kind. But the simplicity of their dress only served to more fully show off their own personal charms. We would like to more fully describe them as they looked on making their first appearance, but the space at our disposal is too limited.

The ladies were certainly in clover, and they made the most of their opportunity, distributing their dances (and other favors) in a very equitable manner, sometimes taking occasion to "get square" with some gentleman friend. And, it can truly be said, it was very pleasing to the young gentlemen to be able to say "thank you, my program is full; but you may have the eighth extra."

The music for the occasion was furnished by Lettan & Chappel, Williamsport's new orchestra, and it was very good and thoroughly enjoyed by all, the musicians being very obliging in playing encores and extras that the dancing did not cease until three o'clock this morning. And, just here, we want to speak a word for the men. Who ever heard of the young men keeping up a dance until three o'clock in the morning? Surely the new woman is starting in well by staying so late as that. Just imagine the husband sitting at home until three o'clock in the morning waiting for his wife to come home from her office or her club. But the men who were there seemed to enjoy it, all the same.

The committee that made such a success of the affair was as follows: Miss Gussie Cryder, Miss Winifred Meek and Miss Rebekah Blanchard, and they certainly deserve considerable credit for the successful way in which it was managed. Among the guests present were Miss Mame Jackson, of Berwick; the Misses Fox, and Miss Donaghue, of Philadelphia; Mrs. H. C. Cooper, of New York; Mrs. James Pierpoint, of Pittsburg, and many others. There were also a good many College students and young gentlemen here from Philipsburg as the guests of the ladies.

Death of Mrs. Hoy.

Mrs. Peggy Hoy, of Madisonburg, died on Tuesday, August 27th, of cancer in the stomach. Interment took place in the Reformed cemetery on Friday morning. She was about seventy-five years of age and a member of the Lutheran church. Mrs. Hoy was a daughter of Adam Shafer, and was married twice, first to Mr. Smeltzer and second to John Hoy. With Mr. Smeltzer she had five children, two of whom, Mrs. Samuel Hoover, of Nittany, and Mrs. John Fisher, as well as her two husbands have preceded her to their reward. The surviving members of the family are, John, in Indiana, Mrs. Andrew Guiser, and Mrs. B. F. Miller, of Madisonburg. Mrs Guiser who watched by the bedside of her mother during her illness almost continuously, caught cold soon after her mother's death, which settled on her lungs and on the day of her mother's funeral she took her bed. She has since had several severe hemorrhages, and is in a very critical condition.

Beezer Still Improving.

Another letter received on Friday evening from the hospital in Philadelphia says that Mr. Philip Beezer is getting along very nicely. After the shock of the operation was over, he at once began to recover quite rapidly, and on Thursday was feeling greatly improved. With his many friends we are glad to hear this news of his condition.

YORK IS LIVELY.

Delegates and Clubs Arriving for To-Day's Big Convention.

York, Pa., Sept. 12.—This, the evening before the meeting of the State League of Republican Clubs in York, is decidedly lively. With each incoming train delegates and clubs are arriving with bands of music and by to-morrow fully 3,000 visitors, it is believed, will be here. The city has donned its holiday garb, and the guests are receiving an old-time York county welcome.

The convention will meet in the opera house to-morrow morning. Who will open the meeting has not yet been decided upon. Among the speakers will be Robert C. Blair, of York, who, it is said, will make the opening address; General McAlpin, of New York, president of the National Republican league; J. F. Woodmansee, of Cleveland, president of the Ohio State league; M. J. Darling, of Minneapolis, Minn., secretary of the National Republican league; Governor Hastings, Hon. John Dalzell, of Pittsburg; Hon. Mariott Brosius, Lancaster; Senator L. Boies Penrose, Philadelphia; Hon. Galusha A. Grow, Hon. J. B. Robinson, and Colonel Everett Warren, the incumbent president.

The first business before the convention will be the report of the committee on resolutions, the naming of the place of next meeting and the election of officers. The platform will, among other things, contain, it is said, a resolution denouncing free coinage. Colonel Everett Warren, it is believed, will be the only nominee for the presidency. A. Wilson Norris will undoubtedly be chosen again as a vice president. R. Hathaway Shindel, of York, will be pushed forward for the same honor, and his friends, believe he will be successful. Terrence V. Powderly is here as a delegate from Scranton.

The arrangements so far are only in contemplation. A meeting of the executive committee will be held late to-night to complete all matters pertaining to the gathering. In the meantime the visitors are indulging in a trolley ride over the city in gaily decorated cars, and are amusing themselves to the full bent of their inclination.

Encountered Heavy Gales.

SOUTHAMPTON, September 12.—The American line steamer St. Louis, which arrvied here from New York yesterday, encountered severe northwesterly gales on Saturday, which lasted forty-eight hours. A heavy beam swell was experienced, but the voyagers did not appreciate the real violence of the storm until they saw from time to time big ships hove to in order to ride out the gale. Sunday night, at the height of the storm, Captain Randle was thrown from his berth and sustained a severe scalp wound. He went back to his berth and did not appear on deck for the remainder of the voyage. He is better now and entirely out of danger.

No other noteworthy incidents occurred except that the boxes of California fruit, which were stacked apart from the other perishable freight in the air spaces were thrown about the cold room and some of them were damaged. The main cargo of the boat did not shift. The passengers are unanimous in declaring that the St. Louis is a wonderfully staunch ship.

A Monument to Governor Curtin.

The proposition to erect a fitting monument to the memory of Andrew G. Curtin, the great War Governor of Pennsylvania at a time when such service as he rendered the country was vitally important, should meet with a hearty response from every man and woman who appreciates true patriotism as displayed by the now dead Governor. We feel very sure that there is not an old soldier in Pennsylvania who will not gladly contribute to the fund for the monument, however small the contribution may be. If that is done, the success of the movement is absolutely assured, for there are thousands who took no active part in the war who will take pleasure in swelling the aggregate to such proportions as will provide a fitting tribute to the memory of one of Pennsylvania's noblest sons.—Philadelphia Star.

Philip Beezer's Condition.

A letter received on Thursday from Philadelphia stated that an operation was performed on Mr. Philip Beezer on Wednesday afternoon. The letter was written Wednesday evening, and although Philip stood the operation all right, he was experiencing considerable pain in the evening. But it is presumed that he is getting getting along all right, as the officials were to telegraph at once if there was any change for the worse. When the doctors performed the operation they found that it was a pretty bad case of appendicitis, and also found an ulcer about the size of a walnut on the stomach. The doctors stated that this form of disease is becoming very common, a fact that they are unable to account for.

COLORED DEMOCRATS.

Their Executive Committee Met in Harrisburg Last Night.

Harrisburg, Sept. 11.—A called meeting of the executive committee of the Democratic Colored State league was held in this city to-night at the Tariff Reform club headquarters. All of the members were present. Chairman Howard presided. Resolutions were passed denouncing the attempt of the South Carolina constitutional convention to disfranchise the negro, asserting in conclusion that "we believe in a free and untrammelled ballot, the inalculable right of every American citizen be he white or black, Jew or gentile, Protestant or Catholic; and that we urge only one qualification as essential to the casting of a ballot, that being the ability to read and to construe the tenets of the United States constitution." The final resolution was no less striking which said "Resolved That in our opinion none but regularly elected judges of the courts shall determine the competency and fitness of voters, rather than the judges of election as contemplated."

A stirring speech was made by Mr. R. G. Still, the president of the State league endorsing President Cleveland and the sound money policy of the administration. Upon motion his remarks were unanimously adopted as the sentiment of the organization.

The committee also passed a resolution recommending that the party elect a representative colored democrat to the next national convention, and adjourned to meet at the regular meeting, October 11, in Philadelphia. The following members were present: N. L. Butler, C. S. Fopel, R. G. Still (president and ex-officio member,) J. S. Price, H. Brown, G. Downey and J. H. W. Howard, chairman executive committee.

Air Navigation.

A bill was introduced in the early part of the last session of congress, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay the sum of one hundred thousand dollars to any inventor from any part of the world who shall prior to 1900 construct a vessel that will demonstrate the practicability of safely navigating the air at a speed of thirty miles an hour, and capable of carrying freight and passengers. The committee on interstate commerce reported the bill without recommendation, the object of the report apparently being to print the information available on the subject of experiments at aerial navigation since the days of Montgolfier. "To those who have not given this subject much attention," says the report, "it may seem somewhat visionary to seriously entertain the idea of navigating the air safely since efforts in this direction have been in most instances failures." Yet the committee maintain "that the eventual solution of the problem will result in one of the greatest social, economic and industrial revolutions in the history of mankind and have the greatest possible influence in the civilization of the world. Whether, they continue, "commercial results will be achieved as early as 1900 is a question your committee do not undertake to answer. It is believed, however, that the passage of the bill will act as a stimulant to work already in progress looking to the solution of this great problem of aerial navigation, and in that respect it cannot but do great work. That the problem will eventually be solved we see no ground upon which to rest a reasonable doubt."

The Neglect Habit.

The habit of neglecting small accounts when you could by honest effort pay them, is not only an annoyance to both debtor and creditor but in many cases causes rea suffering and embarrassment. You expect the butcher to supply you with the choicest cuts of meats, the grocer to deliver you the finest groceries and the printer to remember you with nice local notices and a well edited newsy paper, but why should you, when you fail to show your appreciation by promptly doing as you expect others to do unto you. If you owe Smith a small account pay it and thus assist him to pay Thompson, who can then settle the small bills due the butcher, baker and printer, making them in turn able to pay you the rent which has been long over due because you neglected to pay Smith.

Moral. If collections are hard and slow nine times out of ten you are as much to blame as the other fellow.

In Memory Of

Clarence Henry, the little son of Sydney and Rebecca Barlett, who died at the home of his grandparents on Thomas street on the 10th day of September, 1895. He was aged 2 years, 2 months and 27 days. He was a bright and beautiful little boy and was the pet of all who knew him.

We loved him, yes, we loved him,
But angels loved him more.
They sweetly called him yonder,
Up to that shining shore.

The golden gates were open,
A gentle voice said come;
And with farewells unspoken,
He gently entered home.

The family hereby extend their warmest thanks to all those who so kindly ministered unto them during their recent affliction.

Robbing the Nation.

The administration democrats are now deprecating the further agitation of the money question because large amounts of English capital is only awaiting the settling of that issue to seek investment in this country. If we would consent to the firm establishment of the gold standard we are offered this magnificent inducement of having our national wants supplied by British gold. The promise of English capitalists investing money in American properties is calculated to win the approval of the unthinking multitude. Honest men may even desire it. Yet it is the thing of all things we do not want. British gold is already the curse of our country—the curse of the world.

English capatalists, according to the best authority obtainable, already have six billion dollars invested in this country, in National, State, County, municipal, railroad and other corporation bonds. Suppose this investment only yields four per cent. The annual interest paid to Englishmen reaches the enormous sum of two hundred and forty million dollars. The producers of wealth pay this sum, every cent of it. It is so large as to seem almost incredible and represents at least ninety per cent. of the annual increase in the wealth of the entire nation. Every ten years we pay the gigantic tribute of two billion four hundred million dollars to English money lenders, a sum almost inconceivable, a sum greater than our national debt at the close of the civil war, a sum sufficient to abolish poverity from the American continent, raise and equip an army powerful enough to conquer the southern half of the western hemisphere, and to keep it in the field for four years. This vast sum of money goes abroad. It escapes federal taxation, and bears no part of the burdens of the government. It is spent in midnight revelries in lordly halls and Ducal palaces on the banks of the Thames and of the Clyde. Farmers earning a scanty living in the valley of the West Fork river; on the plains of the Columbia; by the sedgy banks of the Brazos; along the pine girt course of the Kenebec; miners tunnelling beneath the snow-capped peaks of the Rockies, in the dark chambers of our own Pennsylvania collieries; weary toilers on every hillside, slope and plain that bosom the shadow of our starry flag, and echo the name of liberty, are paying, with drops of sweat from oppressed hands and sorrow laden faces, for the luxurious feasts of English lords.

Thanks to legislation faithfully carried out by Grover Cleveland we do not have to contribute quite a million dollars a day for that purpose, but it seems the one ambition of the 'cuckoo' element of the Democracy which blindly follows the leadership of Wall Street, to increase the sum. They will be satisfied only when the gold standard has made a second Ireland of our country, when English landlords will own the soil and the serfs who till it.

We recognize the need of more money, and we have not missed an opportunity to emphasize that need it. But it is not 'borrowed" money that we need. We owe debts enough already. Trusts and mortgages are not pleasant acquaintances to the debtor, although the democratic party has made them "sort of necessaries of life."

The method of increasing the supply of money favored by us is not to borrow it of England and enslave our country to the Rothschilds, but to coin our silver and gold on equal terms. In this way every demand for money can be supplied. Our stocks and bonds will remain on this side of the water and the stream of golden interest flowing to Europe can at least be reduced in volume and the waves of that golden streamlet will no longer sing:

By many a pleasant farm I flow,
To join debt's brimming river.
And seize them softly as I go—
They yield without a quiver.

I grasp the orchard as I flow,
The uplands and the meadow;
I own the violets that grow
Amomg my woodland shadows.

And here and there a foamy wreath
Upon me as I travel,
Shows where some one has sunk beneath
To rest upon my gravel.

I sweep them all along, and flow
To join debt's brimming river;
For men may come and men may go,
But I go on forever.

The Dead of the Accident Buried.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., September 13.—The soldier boys who met death in the caisson accident on Wednesday morning were borne to their graves this afternoon. The four bodies were laid side by side in the Legion lot in Cave Hill cemetery. The Legion assembled at the armory and escorted the remains to Christ cathedral, where services were conducted by Rev. Charles E. Craik. An immense throng followed the cortege to the church and cemetery.

Must Procure License.

The last legislature passed a bill making it obligatory for all persons owning or leasing buildings for show purposes to pay state license in cities of the first class, $500; second class, $400; third class, $75; and boroughs and townships, $30. The penalty for failing to procure such license imposes a fine of not less than $100 on the offender,

Results of a Drunken Brawl.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—During a drunken brawl at Wayne, a suburb of this city last night, John McCarthy was stabbed by either John Kelly or Michael Trainor and then thrown over a fifty-foot embankment into a stone quarry. McCarthy was found this morning and it is believed he will die. Both men who attacked the man, were arrested.

DEMOCRATS NOMINATE.

Held an Old-Fashioned State Convention at Williamsport.

Williamsport, Sept. 11.—The democratic state convention, which nominated six candidates for judge of the superior court, a tribunal created by the last legislature, and also selected a candidate for state treasurer, began here this morning and ended to-night. The convention abounded in exciting scenes. The nominees are For Judges of the Superior Court—Judge Herman Yerkes, of Bucks; James S. Moorhead, Westmoreland; Peter P. Smith, Lackawanna; Charles H. Noyes, Warren; Judge O. P. Bechtel, Schuylkill, and Judge Christopher Magee, of Allegheny.

For State Treasurer—Ex-Congressman B. F. Meyers, of Harrisburg.

There were seventeen candidates for the judicial nominations and it took just three hours and twenty minutes to select a hal dozen of the number. In addition, speeches placing these aspirants before the convention occupied over two hours. Mr. Meyers, who was nominated by William M. Singerly, of Philadelphia, the late democratic gubernatorial candidate, was chosen by acclamation. On the first ballot for the judgeship nominations Yerkes, Moorhead, Smith, Noyes and Bechtel were chosen, each receiving more than the necessary 227 votes. After considerable trouble, another ballot was taken to nominate a sixth candidate and it resulted: Magee 170, Bower 142, all of the other candidates, with the exception of Rose, announcing their withdrawal. As many of the delegates left the hall after the announcement of the first ballot, the chairman refusing to accept the proxies of absent members, the vote of neither Magee nor Bower reached a majority of the convention (227). Chairman Garman, however, recognized the selection of Magee and declared him to be the sixth nominee.

Concerning Avarice.

There are many singular sights in this world, says the Altoona Tribune, but few more so than the spectacle of an old man with an abundance of this world's goods in possession, and not more than a few years at best of earthly life remaining, seeking with might and main to add to his already ample possessions. And yet one could name persons who are so absorbed by the love of material things that they seem unwilling to take a month's rest for fear a few dollars might escape them. In a young man who has a fight to make with the world and who starts at the foot of the ladder, having no capital but his physical and mental strength, such a course might be pardoned. He must make a place for himself, and he must struggle to get and retain it. It is hardly surprising to find an eager and ambitious young fellow taxing his strength to the utmost, but when one sees an old man disregarding the joys of life and trampling under foot all sweet and pleasant things, one wonders if the gatherer of treasures expects to stay on this planet forever. It really looks that way.

Even those of us who have never practiced economy are willing to admit that it is a commendable virtue. Unquestionably a man ought to live within his income if such a thing be possible. He ought to lay by a certain portion of his wages each month to the end that in the days that are coming he may not be compelled to depend upon the uncertain and indifferent charity of the world. It has happened a good many times, even, that elderly persons have received but a slim welcome from their own children when circumstances compelled them to call on those children for support. In some instances the appeal has been rejected; in others might as well have been, since the insolence and indifference with which they are treated sorely wounds the hearts of the outraged parents. So that it is far better that the father and mother, in addition to rearing their children and giving them a start in the world, should likewise so conduct their affairs as to have a shelter of their own and a small bank account.

A Great Attraction.

The musical features of the great convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association at Williamsport, October 8, 9 and 10, will form a great attraction. Prof. J. R. Sweney is director of music and will be assisted by a trained chorus, led by the Rev. James Carter of Williamsport. There will also be two lady cornetists from Philadelphia. Opportunity is provided for congregational singing, and the people who attend these conventions are usually competent to sing. There seems to be nothing wanting in provision for the musical department of the convention.

United Evangelical Church Dedicated.

A handsome new United Evangelical church was dedicated at Tusseyville, four miles west of Centre Hall, last Sabbath. The new edifice is of modern style, has a seating capacity of nearly five hundred and cost about three thousand dollars exclusive of the lot. Eight hundred dollars was raised on Sabbath and the church was dedicated free of debt. Rev. C. H. Goodling is pastor. A few families adhering to the Esher faction have the old church. This congregation was turned out of the old church last December, and were compelled to build, and have now a much better church than the old one.

"Little, But Oh, My!"

Thus ran the refrain to the old song, and the same may be said of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are little but oh my! don't they drive away the blues, expel malaria poison and billiousness from the system, cure constipation, sick headache, clear the clogged brain and cause the dejected sufferer to brace up and realize that life is worth living after all!

Local Department.

—A number of the Star Bicycle club, Altoona, made a run to Penn Cave on Saturday, returning on Sunday.

—The men who put down that brick pavement for the railroad company certainly know how to put down pavements.

—Since his return from the Grand Army encampment Mr. Thomas Donachy has been very ill at his home on Bishop street. We hope he may soon recover his usual good health.

—Col. Dunham must be getting frivolous in his old age, if we are to judge from what we saw in the Hornet this week. He even talks there of getting married again. Oh, Colonel! Why is this thus?

—There was quite a heavy frost on Sunday morning, but so far as was observed it did very little if any damage. But then, most all crops and produce is too far advanced for a frost to hurt it any.

—The 7th Penna. Vet. Vol. Cavalry will hold their 18th annual reunion at Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday and Wednesday, October 22nd and 23rd, 1895. Capt. Geo. F. Steahlin, Sec'y., Orwigsburg, Schuylkill Co., Pa.

—State Senator John A. Lemon died at his home in Hollidaysburg on Monday, after a very brief illness. Mr. Lemon was one of the most prominent men in state affairs, and his death will be a source of deep lam nt everywhere.

—Sunday was a good day for wheeling, and a goodly number of the home club went to Centre Hall to attend the picnic. Among the number was A. A. Dale, Esq., who returned looking as dusty as if he had been through a long heated campaign of some kind.

—Ever since the disastrous wreck of the Walter L. Main shows on the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad, the show people have given that district a wi le berth; but last week Washburn's sh ow were taken over the branch and were accompanied on the trip by train dispatcher R. B. Freeman.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray Andrews gave a delightful lawn party on Friday evening on the lawn surrounding the residence of Mrs. E. W. Hale, on Allegheny street. The lawn was beautifully illuminated with Japanese lanterns and the evening was spent very pleasantly by all who were so favored as to be among those present.

—Saturday morning the horse attached to the delivery wagon of Jared Harper, while out on one of the outside streets of Bellefonte, beca ne frightened at something and ran away, with the result that the wagon was pretty badly demolished. The driver had some difficulty in getting out without getting injured, but he succeeded in doing so finally.

—A thief who endeavored to purloin some chickens from the hen roosts of Jas. C. Hunter, who lives near Vail, in Bald Eagle valley, on Friday night, was met with a full charge of bird shot, which struck him in the place where he generally sits down. It is now believed that that individual will eat his dinners standing during the next few weeks.

—The Pittsburg Dispatch, with its usual enterprise, makes an offer of fifty dollars in gold to the person who will present some "bright original idea," which can be used in that city during the next encampment of the Grand Templars. Now here is a chance for some of Bellefonte's smart people to make fifty dollars quite easily.

—By request, and for the information of all those who wish to know more explicitly about the election of the fire marshall Monday evening, we will say that Mr. Waltz was nominated by Mr. Brockerhoff and Mr. Wise by Mr. Valentine. Those who voted for Waltz were Messrs. Bush, Brachbill, Brockerhoff and Williams; for Wise, Messrs. Gerberich and Valentine.

—The Till Family, Rock Band Concert Company, will give one of their unique and interesting musical entertainment in the M. E. church, Thursday evening, Sept. 19th. The concert will consist of ringing rocks, swinging harps, musical glasses, zithers, mandolins, guitars, ocarinas and several other instruments. Every member of the Till family is a musical genius. It will pay everybody to hear them. Get your tickets early at Schreyer & Rees' store, at the low prices of 35 and 25 cents.

—Garmans Opera house on Monday night had a fair audience to witness the drama "A Money Order" by "Seymore S. Tibbals" "Jule Walters" company. This was the opening performance of the season and gave complete satisfaction to all who witnessed it. They had brought with them a large lot of fine scenery, this with the excellent acting of the company each member of which is a first class artist produced an effect of absorbing interest they were greeted with continued applause, we risk nothing in saying that had the people of Bellefonte generally known the excellence of this troupe the house would have been filled to overflowing with our best people. If manager Garman gets this kind of troupes all the time he will never fail to have a large audience.

—The Bellefonte Academy opened on Wednesday with a very large attendance.

—Now that College days have again come around, a large number of Bellefonte's young men and ladies will be soon missed from among us, as they hie themselves to their different institutions of learning.

—Reports of enormous crops are of frequent occurrence this season. The latest received at this office is that of Mr. Eml. Wetzel, of Haines township, who got 143 bushels of wheat from a 4¼ acre field, making 33 and 11—17 per acre or 33¾ bashels.

—The Pennsylvania railroad company are making preparations to pave the street near their tracks with Mill Hall brick. This will be quite an improvement at that place, and all that is yet needed to make that place perfect is an arc light near the crossing.

—It is said that Buffalo Bill's show drew a larger crowd to Williamsport than even the democratic convention, and the papers of that city can hardly speak words of praise glowing enough of the exhibition. And they say there were no pickpockets there.

—Because the police patrol boat endeavored to keep the Valkyrie in line on Thursday she refused to sail the third race in the series for the American cup. This has a bad look on the face of it for the Britisher, kind as if she meant to win, either fair or foul.

—Simeon Haupt, James Alexander and A. C. Loneberger are making preparations for their annual deer hunt in the Allegheny mountains. They are excellent hunters and are generally crowned with success. Parties desiring a guide and hunter should address A. C. Loneberger.

—H. J. Sambert, of Punxsutawney, passed through our town on his wheel, being on an extended trip. He had been in the state of Maine and as far north as Toronto, Canada, making the entire Journey on his iron steed. He says Canada has the best roads for cycling of any place he has visited yet.

—The funeral of Dr. Robert L. Dartt occurred on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services being held at his late residence on Allegheny street, Rev. J. W. Rue officiating. The pall bearers were John P. Harris, William Speer, F. H. Thomas, John Ardell, C. F. Montgomery, and H. H. Harshberger.

—There seems to have been some kind of an ungrateful fate working in Louisville against the old soldiers this week. Two bad accidents, with six dead and about thirty wounded, occured to mar the otherwise pleasures of the occasion. Surely Kentucky soil must be a bad place on which to hold reunions of Union soldiers.

—While on the way to see his best girl one night last week a Pennsvalley beau accidently stepped on a skunk. It is not recorded whether he proceeded on his journey or hid himself in the woods for a week or so. But one thing is certain, if we were that fellow's girl we should certainly want him to do the latter.

—Some of the Bellefonte delegation that went to Louisville to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. have already returned home. They report having had an extraordinary good time. We suppose that the Kentucky whiskey is just as good now as it ever was, and that may account in part for the good time the boys had.

—If one were to judge from the number of wagons seen at the various places on the streets of Bellefonte, they would have to be of the opinion that the trend of trade is slowly but surely coming towards this end of the town. This noon when the writer went up street he counted just twenty-four wagons standing in a distance of one block, while up town there were very few.

—Those who attended the musical concert in the Presbyterian chapel on Thursday evening, as given by Mr. and Mrs. McKeen, were very much pleased with the character of the entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. McKeen are both accomplished musicians, and Miss Sisson, as an elocutionist, is incomparably great. The audience was not as large as it might have been, but those who were there enjoyed a rare treat.

—The Gazette last week failed to give its readers that wonderful piece of news it advertised last week as going to be such a good thing for Bellefonte. But the Watchman, with its usual foresight, stated that it was in reference to a proposed trolley railroad from Milesburg to Pleasant Gap, with Bellefonte as the central point. Of course, this road has been in the prospective for a long time, and it may yet afford subject for many a newspaper article before it is built. In fact, we feel assured that it will.

—If the "no change in the situation" condition at State College is becoming as irksome to the College officials and the students as it is to the state at large, they would both try to do something to put an end to it at once. The state is annually contributing over one hundred thousand dollars to this institution—but it is to keep it going, and not to encourage differences between the faculty and the students, especially a class of them that has not yet attained to the honor of being good juniors.

THE JUNIORS ENTERED.

They Took the History Examination as Required, on Monday.

At last the trouble at the State College has been settled and the juniors have gone to the regular College work along with the rest of the students at that institution. This is as it should be, and the only piece of regret is that the settlement of the affair was as long delayed as it was. As we have gleaned them the particulars are as follows:

After the juniors had tried in vain to hold some kind of communication with the faculty, and always failed of success, the seniors took the matter up and a committee of that class went to the faculty and asked just what they were willing to do in the affair. The faculty's reply was considered a favorable one, and at a meeting of the juniors held on Saturday it was voted to accept it; and in accordance therewith, the students all appeared at 9 o'clock on Monday morning and took the re-examination in history.

After the examination the faculty informed them that all marks which had been made against them for non-attendance on college work last week would be cancelled. They were also informed that any who failed to pass the examination would be given the usual five weeks time in which to remove the conditions. But the stagger of all came when the class was informed by the faculty that as a punishment for non-attendance last week, the entire class would be deprived of the regular winter vacation leave of absence. This was a stagger, and is thought a little too severe, and the faculty will be asked by the higher class men to forego the enforcement of the ultimatum.

The Fire Marshall Question.

Ever since the first Monday in August the election of a Fire Marshall has been hanging fire just because the companies were unable to agree upon a person suitable to both companies. According to precedent, it has been customary to allow one company the selecting of the candidate one year and the other company the next year. This being the year when it would fall to the right of the Undines to make their selection, they presented the name of a man who, for some reason, did not seem to be at all satisfactory to the Logan boys, and they would not support him in convention.

Then the matter was thrown into the council, and they elected a man who refused to serve, and again the election was given over to the fire companies with the same result as formerly. And last night, for the second time, the matter came before council for settlement. And they settled it by electing the man who the Undines desired. Now, the question arises, will there be perfect harmony between the companies, or will it hang in a quarrel that may in the end cost the borough many thousands of dollars in the loss of property, in case of a fire? Of course, we know as well as anyone else, that this is not the right kind of a feeling to have in the fire department, but if it does exist, and there is no way to get rid of it, what is to be done about it? It is really a serious question, and one that should be carefully considered by every citizen in the borough, and especially the large property owners.

The Mystic Chain's Ox Roast.

It is said that about eight hundred people were at Hecla Park on Thursday to enjoy the first annual picnic of the Bellefonte Castle of the Knights of the Mystic Chain, and that they all had a good time. Some who were there say that the ox roast was a complete success, and a few say that they did not see anything of the kind. "Warren" says, "they fooled the people, because they didn't roast any bull, at all." All in all, however, it proved a pleasant day for those who were there, and none regret going. Guests were present from Lock Haven and other places. It took just ten hours to roast the animal that was the chief feature of attraction.

—The Golden Eagles have rented the hall which will occupy the third floor of the new Pruner block, and are already making arrangements for moving there.

—Dr. Parrish expects to move his drug store into its permanent location in about two weeks. The room is now almost finished and it has the appearance of being a dandy.

—The street commissioner is hard at work fixing up the various streets throughout the town. And this is as it should be, as there are enough of them that need fixing up every one knows.

—On Sunday, Sept. 15th, Mr. Thedore Cherry, of this place, was 38 years old and his wife gave a dinner in his honor. Among those present were Mr. John Fisher and wife, and many others.

THE BOROUGH DADS.

How They Passed the Time on Monday Evening.

Council convened on Monday evening with members Miller, Williams, Gerberich, Valentine, Brockerhoff, Brachbill and Bush present. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous session which were approved as read.

A committee from the Undine fire company was present and again reported that in convention the delegates of the Logans and Undines failed to elect a Fire Marshall and first assistant and desired to recommend to council as their candidate for Marshall, Mr. Frank Waltz.

The Street committee reported a large number of pavements repaired since the last meeting. The borough engineer made a profile grade of Willowbank street from the race to the borough line, and the committee presented the same to council for its inspection. Some work had been done on Curtin street in the way of breaking stone and cleaning out the gutters, and the street commissioner was now at work cleaning the loose stone off the other streets of the borough. The committee also reported the cleaning of the creek completed, and it now looks far better. It was dug out to a depth of 16 inches for a distance of about two hundred feet.

The Water committee reported pipe laid to the foundations for the new house of J. C. Meyer and Dr. Ward, on Curtin street; two fire plugs repaired on Linn street and one on Lamb street. The pipe moved for Rev. Zehner and a few repairs made in different places. The pump is kept running the usual fourteen hours to keep up the water supply. No repairs have yet been made at the boilers at the water works but it will be given prompt attention.

The Market committee reported $11.10 market fees collected during the past week. The Fire & Police, Nuisance committee had no reports to make.

Samuel Diehl was present and submitted to council a proposition to give them six feet of his lot in from the pier of the bridge, if they would accept that and drop all proceedings now pending. The matter was referred to the Street committee, the Borough Engineer and the Borough Solicitor.

The question of the election of a Fire Marshall was then taken up and Frank Waltz and Joseph Wise were nominated. On the first ballot Waltz was elected by a majority of 4 to 2. John Trafford was then elected first assistant unanimously.

Beaver street residents report a scarcity of water and the matter was referred to the Water committee.

The following bills were then approved and council adjourned:

Street Pay Roll	$27 91
Police Pay Roll	35 00
Thomas Shaughensey, market clerk	1 00
Water Pay Roll	38 10
Ed. Leonroth, painting stack	5 25
Total Amount	$112 26

Death of John Evans.

The funeral of John Evans, the man who at one time operated the steam laundry in this place, occurred in Altoona on Sunday. Mr. A. S. Garman went up to be present at the services. In speaking of his death the Altoona Tribune says:

The deceased was formerly an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad brass foundry of this city, having left the employ of the company in October last on account of ill health. Last year he embarked in the grocery business in Juniata, and continued in this occupation until his death. He was a member of the illfated expedition, headed by Contractor Thomas Collins, which left this country for Brazil some twenty years ago, to construct railroads in that country. The hardships he endured while on this expedition sowed the seeds of disease which ultimately ended in death.

The Shakers have made a discovery which is destined to accomplish much good. Realizing that three-fourths of all our suffering arise from stomach troubles, that the country is literally filled with people who cannot eat and digest food, without subsequently suffering pain and distress, and that many are starving, wasting to mere skeletons, because their food does them no good, they have devoted much study and thought to the subject, and the result is this discovery, of their Digestive Cordial.

A little book can be obtained from your druggist that will point out the way of relief at once. An investigation will cost nothing and will result in much good.

The Grange Picnic.

The granger's picnic at Centre Hall was informally opened on Sunday with religious services during the entire day. The preaching was by Revs. Illingsworth, Isenburg and Goodling. This evening the picnic will be formally opened with addresses by Isaac S. Frain and Col. James F. Weaver. The prospects are for a very large attendance during the week. About two hundred tents have already been engaged and the exhibitions are finer and larger than ever before.

A Cat With Three Eyes.

All cats are said to be possessed of nine lives but as a general thing have but two eyes. Mr. M. Flaig of South Fairview street, this city, is the proud owner of a two months' old kitten that has three eyes. The extra optic is located under the cat's chin and is apparently as good an eye for seeing purposes as either of the other two which are in their proper places. The kitten is as playful as any of the others of the litter and is certainly a great curiosity.—Lock Haven Express.

U. and the Bellefonte Temperance Union.

WILL BOWER CONTEST?

There is Trouble Brewing in the Democratic Camp Just Now.

All is not as serene in the democratic camp as it appears to be to the casual observer on the outside surface. Rumors have been circulated that Bower intended to contest the nomination of Magee, as made at the Williamsport convention last week. Mr. Bower has been seen in regard to it but he denies that he intends doing any such thing. He says that he is a democrat, and shall stick to the party nominations.

But, though Mr. Bower has denied that he would contest the nomination, it was given out from democratic headquarters (which, by the way, are now in Mr. Bower's office) last evening that the nomination would be contested by a number of the State Central Committee, but no names would be given. Now there is one thing very certain; the democrats in this part of the state, who favored Bower's nomination, are all of the opinion that the nomination as made was as pure and unadultered a piece of wholesale political robbery as ever was connived and executed in a political convention, and that is saying a good bit. When they returned from Williamsport last week they were loud in their denunciation of the methods used to defeat Bower and nominate Magee, and since that they have had no reason to change their minds one iota.

Of course, a fight in their ranks means little to the republican ticket in this state, at this time, as the majority is too large to overcome, and then there is not enough at stake to justify making a very hot fight for. But it will be a good thing for the fun-loving to sit back and see them do one another up to the queen's taste.

Hauling Heavy Loads.

Wellsboro Gazette: For some time there has been considerable rivalry existing between the teamsters in hauling big loads of lumber for Drake, Landrus & Co., from the Doane mills to Blackwells, a distance of about three miles. A few days ago one team hauled a load which measured 2 960 feet. This was supposed to be the boss load of the season until Bert Lynch, son of John Lynch, of Delmar, hauled a load which capped the climax and has put an end to further contests for the present. The load consisted of green lumber and measured 4,280 feet, and its weight was estimated at 10,000 pounds.

Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 22d, great central valleys the 24th, eastern states the 26th.

A Timely Reminder

Each season forces upon our consideration its own peculiar perils to health. The advent of fall finds many reduced in strength and vigor, poorly prepared to continue the business of life. The stomach and bowels, the great highway of animal economy, is especially liable to disorder in the fall. The nervous system has also suffered in the struggle. Typhoid fever and malaria in particular find in the fall that combination of earth, air and water that marks this season as especially dangerous. The falling leaves, the decaying vegetables contribute their share of contamination. Hood's Sarsaparilla furnishes a most valuable safeguard at these important points, and should be used in the fall before serious sickness has laid you low.

Anticipated His Death.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Joseph C. Blobenekke, died to-day of heart disease, after having made arrangements yesterday for his funeral.

Blobenekke went to an undertaker and arranged for a proper burial. Then he went home and went to bed, telling his landlady to wake him at 7 o'clock this morning. When called he said he was not ready to get up, but asked to be called again at 1 o'clock this afternoon. At that hour he was found dead in bed. There are no signs of suicide. The man was 65 years old and single.

Live Decent and Respectable.

If ever people weep it is when they see a man working hard and living poor so that he may die rich. As we only go through this world once it is better to live decent and respectable and enjoy life in a rational manner, and to do something with one's money for the betterment and improvement of religion and the town where he lives. This course will make mortals weep when you are gone.
